TENTH ANNUAL REPORT

—OF THE—

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER

—OF THE—

STATE OF MARYLAND,

TO HIS EXCELLENCY,

WILLIAM T. HAMILTON, Governor,

June 1st, 1881.

ANNAPOLIS:

L. F. COLTON, STATE PRINTER.

1882.

REPORT.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT,

ANNAPOLIS, May 25, 1881.

To his Excellency,

WILLIAM T. HAMILTON, Governor.

SIR: I have the honor to submit to you, in accordance with the requirements of chapter 106 of the acts of 1878, my Annual Report, being the tenth issued since the formation of this department.

Embodied in this report will be found the statements of one hundred and eighty-five companies authorized to do business in this State.

A large body of statistics of this description, I need hardly say, involves great care and accuracy, as well as arrangement, in order to be of the value it is intended, and to prove as useful to those interested as I have every reason to believe it is.

I shall have occasion under its appropriate heading to refer to and comment upon some branches of the Life Insurance business, including what is known as the "co-operative" or "assessment" plan, and to offer some suggestions as to needed legislation, to which I especially invite attention.

I have, in former reports, referred to the fact that these volumes are becoming a greater necessity every year, and I became the more convinced of this during the past year, by the fact, that although I considered I had an ample supply for the ordinary wants of the department, I found myself, long before the close of the year, without the means of supplying the requests of business men who applied for copies, from Baltimore and other parts of the State; and while it is not my intention to increase the issue, I shall be driven to still greater discrimination in the issuance of them after I have supplied the demands of those companies and agents who, of course, are entitled to be supplied, owing partly to their interest in the volume, and partly to the fact that they pay, by way of fees, for its printing.

I find that owing to the heavy proportion of losses met with by the foreign companies and companies of other States as shown in the various statements and tables in this report, the revenue derived from a percentage on premiums received, after deducting losses, will fall below my expectations. As will be seen from the next part, in the year 1880, with nearly $2,000 less receipts than in 1879, the companies of other States doing business in Maryland met with $72,000 more losses, while the foreign companies that in the year 1879 lost but one-third of their premium receipts, in 1880 lost four-fifths.

The Insurance Business done in Maryland in 1880.

The following summary shows the amounts received by the various classes of companies, and the amounts they have paid out, giving, as it were, a bird's eye view of the more extended tables to be found further on in the report. I also give the similar table for 1879, to show the general fluctuation.

Baltimore Fire Insurance Companies.

The business of these companies shows a slight improvement in the proportion of premium receipts to losses paid on Maryland business, and considering the large competition they have to submit to from an active corps of agents, may be looked upon as reasonably successful. Abstracts A show the details of these companies for 1880.

The aggregates of Table No. 1, embracing these companies, are as follows:

Capital	$2,492,380 00
Gross assets.....	5,687,077 50
Gross liabilities, including capital.....	3,625,832 05
Premiums received.....	733,181 48

Mutual Fire Insurance Companies of Maryland.

The reports of these companies, given in detail in Abstracts B, will be found to compare favorably with their condition of last year, and I need only refer to the tabular statement No. 2.

I noted in my last report that one of our State Mutuals—"The State of Maryland Mutual"—had been absorbed by a Pennsylvania Mutual Company—"The Lycoming" of Muncy. The effect of this on the people insured in the old company promises to be very severe, the reinsuring company having failed, and made heavy assessments on all its premium notes, amounting to twenty-five per cent. This should be a warning to the citizens of the counties to confine themselves, when selecting a Mutual Company, to those organized within this State.

Fire and Marine Insurance Companies of other States doing Business in Maryland.

The admissions and withdrawals of these companies since my last report have been as follows:

Admitted.	Withdrawn.
Lumbermens of Pennsylvania.	Peoples of Trenton.
Howard of New York.	Kings County of New York.
Great Western Marine of N. Y.	Virginia Fire and Marine of Va.
Union of California.	St. Nicholas of New York.
American of Boston.	Lynchburg of Virginia.
	Lycoming of Pennsylvania.
	Manufacturers of New Jersey.
	Mercantile of Ohio.
	United Firemens of Philadelphia.
	Standard of New Jersey.
	Fairfield of Connecticut.
	Meriden of Connecticut.
	Pacific Mutual of New York.
	Faneuil Hall of Boston.

Abstracts C show in detail the condition of these companies, and Table No. 3 shows in condensed form a statement of their condition and business.

A summary of Table No. 3 is as follows:

Capital.....	$ 40,612,080 00
Gross assets.....	108,528,758 07
Gross liabilities, including capital.....	71,574,706 31

MARYLAND BUSINESS.

Amount insured.....	$123,686,994 14
Premiums received.....	885,137 24
Losses paid.....	546,699 10

The business of these companies in this State did not prove as satisfactory as in the previous year, rates having fallen off considerably, and the amount of losses increased, causing a number of the companies to withdraw their agencies.

Foreign Insurance Companies.

The changes in the foreign companies consist of the withdrawal of the General Reassurance Company of Paris, and the La Caisse Generale, also of Paris, while there were admitted the Lion Fire Insurance Company, limited, of London, England, the Scottish Union and National of Edinburg, and the Swiss Lloyd Transport Company of Switzerland.

Table No. 4 shows the number and character of these companies as exhibited by the United States branches, and abstracts D the details.

A summary of Table No. 4 is as follows:

Gross assets in United States.....	$28,763,222 83
Gross liabilities in United States.....	12,975,861 45

MARYLAND BUSINESS.

Amount at risk....	$40,444,354 20
Premiums received.....	211,881 64
Losses paid.....	170,390 10

As will be seen by this table the foreign companies as a whole made no money in Maryland last year after paying the agency expenses.

Life Insurance.

With regard to Life Insurance Companies heretofore licensed to do business in this State there is little change to note. No companies have been admitted since my last report, and only one, the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of San Francisco, has withdrawn, leaving the number now doing business the two chartered by our own State and the twenty-six companies of other States.

The withdrawal of a Life Insurance Company from the State, whether done voluntarily or through the refusal of the Department to grant a renewal of its license, occasionally causes a certain inconvenience, to which I beg to invite your attention, and which I think could readily and very properly be remedied by appropriate legislation.

The law, as it now stands, recognizes but one class of agents, namely, those representing companies authorized to transact the business of insurance and grant policies within the State.

It often happens, however, that after a company has withdrawn from the State, persons who are already insured in it desire to keep up their insurance by payment of premiums which is merely a compliance with a contract into which they have already entered. Fire Insurance is mostly granted for short terms, and its renewal, upon expiring, is really the making of a new contract. Life Insurance, on the other hand, is granted for long terms, generally the whole period of life, and the payment of the future premiums is one of its stipulated conditions. It is of course perfectly competent for anyone to remit a premium by mail to a company outside the State, in which he may hold an insurance, but he cannot pay to an agent of the company within the State, and the company cannot lawfully have such an agent unless it is fully licensed to do business. The result is, no doubt, that the law is frequently evaded, and as a remedy for this, and for what appears to be the unnecessary inconvenience of this situation, I would respectfully suggest the expediency of providing for the licensing of agents to receive premiums on policies already existing for companies of other States which may not be allowed to transact any new business in this State.

The convenience of paying to a resident agent would be generally availed of, and by imposing a small specific license tax upon agents of this class, but requiring them to make reports of collections, and to pay the usual tax upon premium receipts, a revenue would doubtless be derived for the State from premiums which are now either unlawfully collected in the State or sent privately through the mails out of it, and escape taxation altogether.

The reduction in the rate of interest in this country will probably render it expedient before long to change the basis for calculating the reserves for Life Insurance from four and a half per cent. to four per cent. interest. When the former basis was adopted in 1872, it was lower than the rates of interest then prevailing, and it seemed a safe assumption that that rate at least could be earned in the future. Now that the rate of interest paid by the National Government has practically been reduced to three and a half per cent., and the city of Baltimore easily places a loan on the market at four per cent., the conditions are quite different. It would not be wise to change the standard abruptly, without fair notice to the companies, but I believe that most if not all of those now doing business in the State would be able to conform to a standard based upon interest at four per cent.

Co-operative or Assessment Associations.

For the first time I am able to present with this report tabulated statements filed by some of the "Co-operative" or "Assessment" Associations doing business in this State. At the last session of the legislature a bill was introduced intended to place companies of this class under the supervision of this department, in the same manner and to the same extent as the regular life insurance companies now are. This bill however failed to become a law, and the only result was an act requiring these associations to file a statement of their business affairs annually with the Insurance Commissioner, and imposing a license tax upon those coming from other States.

In accordance with this provision of the law I prepared blanks for the statements required, and sent them to all the associations, the names of which I could ascertain, as seeking to do business in this State. The associations coming from other States being unable to obtain a license otherwise, have promptly complied with the law and filed the statements demanded of them. The associations organized within this State have, however, in many cases entirely disregarded the demands made upon them to file the statement required by law, or to have their charter submitted to the Attorney General and filed in the department. Proceedings, as you are aware, have been begun to compel a compliance with the law on their part.

These provisions have no application to any organizations of a charitable or benevolent nature, such as are formed in connection with many religious and other societies for the purpose of affording aid to the members or their families in case of sickness or distress. With societies of this sort this department has nothing to do.

The statistics with regard to the co-operative assessment associations are as yet exceedingly meagre. The facts as far as gathered will be found in tabular form immediately following this portion of my report. By improving my form for gathering the information from the companies (which was at first necessarily experimental), I expect to obtain fuller information; and by the enforcement of the law against the associations of this State, I shall endeavor hereafter to present such a statement of facts as may prove of value in connection with this subject. The fuller the information upon the subject, and the better its workings are known, the more intelligently can it be conducted. If the new system is good it should prosper, and if defective its errors should be discovered, and if possible, corrected, but if they are inherent to the system, the sooner the fact is known the better for the community at large.

A more full supervision of these associations than the mere collecting of statements should however be provided by law, in order to enable this department fully to perform the office for which it was created. As I have taken occasion to remark in former reports, with the particular merits or demerits of different methods of transacting business, provided they are not contrary to good morals and public policy, this department and should have nothing to do. Supervision, however, that has could inquire into the responsibility of these associations for their obligations, and require a standard of solvency to be maintained adapted to the nature of the actual liabilities assumed, may accomplish much good.

The importance of my recommendation on this subject is fully shown by occurrences which have recently been reported in the newspapers. I refer to the speculative insurances on the lives of aged and infirm persons, in many cases paupers, that have been effected for large sums, chiefly in the counties of Frederick and Carroll.

Insurance of this kind, obtained by persons who have no interest in the life of the person insured, but a considerable interest in his death, appeals to the worst passions of human nature, is gambling of the worst description, and a direct incentive to crime.

Publicity and the force of public opinion will do much to correct an abuse like this, but it would be more immediately effective if the grand jury of the county could take cognizance of it and indict the offenders.

Organizations of this description are formed with great facility, and some, I am led to believe, have been formed merely for the purpose of embarking in a speculation of this sort. The public does not stop to make nice discriminations between associations that are apparently similar in their character, and practices such as these, unless promptly reported and checked, are likely soon to bring down a general and indiscriminate condemnation upon many who are innocent, as well as upon the guilty.

Respectfully submitted,

JESSE K. HINES,

Insurance Commissioner.
