THE SUN ALMANAC

THE BLUE BOOK OF MARYLAND.

THE SUN presents to its subscribers the 33d number of this standard book of reference. The controlling idea in its preparation has been to compress within its pages the maximum of information as to the affairs of Baltimore City, the State of Maryland, the nation and the world, giving special attention to political, governmental, industrial and scientific events of interest to the statesman, the business man, the farmer and the home circle. The broadening scope of the Almanac is indicated by its growth to 256 pages this year, against 176 in 1902. In no other publication are the political statistics of the city and State so comprehensively presented. The pages set apart for advertisements add to its value.

THE SUN ALMANAC is not sold but is given to subscribers of THE SUN.

ASTRONOMICAL CALCULATIONS FOR THE YEAR 1908.

Comprising the latter part of the 132nd and the beginning of the 133rd year of the Independence of the United States of America.

The Astronomical Calculations in this Almanac are made for Baltimore, Md., or, more exactly, the position of Johns Hopkins University, in Long. 5 h. 6 m. 26 s. west of Greenwich and Lat. 39° 17' 48" N., and are given in Eastern Standard time (which corresponds to Long. 5 h. west of Greenwich). To express the data given in Baltimore Mean time, subtract 6 m. 26 s. from the values given.

The year 1908 corresponds to—

The year 6621 of the Julian Period.

The year 7416-7417 of the Byzantine Era, the year 7417 commencing on Sept. 1st.

The year 5668-5669 of the Jewish Era, the year 5669 commencing on Sept. 26th, or, more exactly, at sunset on September 25th.

The year 2661 since the foundation of Rome, according to Varro.

The year 2568 of the Japanese Era, and to the 41st year of the period entitled "Meiji."

The year 1326 of the Mohammedan Era, beginning on the 4th day of February, 1908.

The first day of January of the year 1908 is the 2,417,942nd day since the commencement of the Julian Period.

ECLIPSES.

In the year 1908 there will be three eclipses of the Sun and a Lunar Appulse.

1. A Total Eclipse of the Sun, January 3, 1908, invisible at Baltimore. The path of the Total Eclipse is confined to the Pacific Ocean, beginning north of Papua and ending at west coast of Panama.

2. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun, June 28, 1908, visible at Baltimore as a Partial Eclipse. The path of the Annular Eclipse begins in the Pacific Ocean west of North America, crosses Mexico, enters the Atlantic Ocean, going right through Tampa, Fla., and ends in the northwest part of Africa.

3. A Lunar Appulse December 7, 1908, the Moon just rising at Baltimore, and visible generally throughout Europe, Asia, Africa and the extreme eastern portions of North and South America.

4. A Central Eclipse of the Sun, December 22-23, 1908, invisible at Baltimore. The Central Eclipse will be annular at the beginning and end, and total in the middle.

MORNING AND EVENING STARS.

Venus is evening star until July 5, and morning star the remainder of the year.

Mars is evening star until August 22, and morning star for the balance of the year. Jupiter is morning star until January 29, then evening star until August 17, and morning star again for the rest of the year.

Saturn is evening star until March 21, then morning star until September 30, then evening star again for the remainder of the year.

EATING.—The majority of people eat too fast. The mouth was not intended to be a hopper. The mouth is the mill; the lips are the hopper. When the food gets into the mill, it ought never to go down the food-pipe until it is liquid—until reduced to the consistency of thin gruel. When food enters the stomach in a liquid state, the stomach can dispose of it in an hour and a half or two hours. If food is not made liquid in the mouth, it requires (for digestion) anywhere from two to twenty hours. If the food is swallowed in chunks, the gastric juice can come in contact only with the outside of it, and it makes slow work.

LEGAL AND OTHER HOLIDAYS IN MARYLAND.

1. New Year's day, January 1.
2. Washington's birthday, February 22.
3. Decoration day, May 30.
4. Independence day, July 4.
5. Christmas day, December 25.
6. Good Friday.
7. General election day.
8. Congressional election day.
9. Sundays.

In addition to the foregoing all special days that may be appointed or recommended by the Governor of this State or the President of the United States as days of thanksgiving, fasting and prayer or other religious observances, or for the general cessation of business, become legal holidays. This is provided for in Article 13, Section 9 of the Code. Under it the following may become holidays in this State:

Labor Day—the first Monday in September—It is a national holiday by Act of Congress approved June 28, 1894.

Defenders' Day—September 12—This is a municipal holiday in Baltimore City, in memory of the successful resistance to British Invasion in 1814.

Arbor and Bird Day—By resolution of the General Assembly of 1894, the Governor of Maryland is authorized to designate by proclamation one day in April every year for tree planting, to be known as "Arbor Day."

Maryland Day—March 25, the anniversary of the landing at St. Clements Island, now Blackstones Island, St. Mary's county, of the first settlers in Maryland, in the year 1634, is not a legal holiday, but is commemorated by special exercises in the public schools of the State.

Repudiation Day—The General Assembly of 1894 made November 23 a bank half-holiday in Frederick county, under the title of "Repudiation Day," in commemoration of the repudiation of the stamp act in 1765.

SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.

Saturday half-holiday laws are in force in the following places:
 Annapolis, Act of 1894, Ch. 167.
 Baltimore city, Act of 1898, Ch. 198.
 Baltimore county, Act of 1898, Ch. 152.
 Harford county, Act of 1898, Ch. 154.
 Montgomery co., Act of 1898, Ch. 366.
 Cecil county, Act of 1900, Ch. 87.
 Westminster, Act of 1902, Ch. 443.

Ellicott City, Act of 1902, Ch. 151.

Bills, drafts, checks, notes, etc., maturing on any half-holiday Saturday, shall be payable on the succeeding secular or business day.

Days of grace were abolished in Maryland by Act of 1896, Ch. 106, except under stipulated agreement.

ESTIMATING DISTANCES.

Commander Wm. H. Beehler, U. S. N., has devised a method of estimating distances for gun-fire. The method consists in getting two lines of sight on a distant object, one with the right and the other with the left eye. The observer extends his right arm with the forefinger pointing to the object, and sights with his right eye along the arm. Then, holding the arm and finger rigid, he closes his right eye and sights with his left eye over the point of the forefinger. He finds that the second sight-line will point to the right of the distant object a distance equal to one-tenth of the distance of the object from the observer. The lateral distance to the right must be estimated; and the accuracy of the estimate depends upon practice in observing distant objects of known dimensions. The lateral error is, of course magnified ten times when applied to the horizontal distance between the observer and the distant object. The basis of this method lies in the fact that the two eyes are normally 2.75 ins. apart; and the right forearm extended will bring the point of the right forefinger 27.5 ins. from the right eye. If lines be drawn between the two eyes, from the right eye to the object, from the left eye over the right forefinger, and between the distant object and the point to the right struck by the second sight-line, we have two right-angled similar triangles, in the smaller of which a proportion of 10 to 1 exists between the base and altitude; and consequently there is the same proportion between the similar sides of the larger triangle. As men are not uniform in size, the distance between the eyes is not always the same, the ratio must be determined in each case. But the proportion of 10 to 1 should be retained as the most convenient, even if the point of intersection for the left eye sight has to be prolonged by the use of a lead pencil, or other object.

STRENGTH OF TIMBERS OR BEAMS.—

A beam twice as wide as another is twice as strong; one twice as deep is four times as strong. One twice as long is only half as strong. A beam loose at both ends and loaded in the middle will bear only two-thirds as much as if both ends were firmly fixed. A beam with its narrow side upward is as much stronger than with its broad side upward as the depth exceeds the breadth.

THE ATOM.—The theory of the atom now almost universally accepted supposes that a number of negative corpuscles are held balanced in orbital motion by the attraction of a positive nucleus to which, therefore, the corpuscles are satellites. The number of satellites determines the nature of the element, about 1,000 corpuscles, for instance, going to the making of an atom of hydrogen.

The lunar year is the time required for the moon to travel around the earth twelve times. This is 354 days 8 hours 48 minutes long, and is the year of the Jews. It is 11 days shorter than the solar year. To make good this defect the Hebrews add a thirteenth month of 30 days every third year, but even then they are still three days behind solar time.

The year 5668 is a leap year and has 13 months. When new moon is observed two days it is indicated, as, for example, March 3-4.

EVENING AND MORNING STARS.

Although Venus has ever been considered the morning or the evening star par excellence, every one of the planets acts in the capacity of a morning and an evening star. The inferior planets Mercury and Venus are evening stars from superior to inferior conjunction, and the superior planets Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune from opposition to conjunction. It follows from this that the duration of an evening star depends upon the synodical period of the respective planet, being one-half of it. Consequently Mercury shines as an evening star (or a morning star) about 2 months, Venus about 9½ months, Mars 13 months (the longest period of all), Jupiter 6½ months, Saturn 6¼ months, and Uranus 6 months.

THE CAPE TO CAIRO RAILWAY has reached Broken Hill, 374 miles north of Victoria Falls and 2,016 miles from Cape Town. It will take 500 miles more of railway to reach the southern end of Tanganyika, this long lake extending north for 400 miles, forming an important section of the waterway. From the northern end of Tanganyika there then will remain 600 miles of road to Lado, which is the head of navigation on the Nile. This will permit the use of 1,000 miles of navigation to Khartum, from whence rail and water connections to Cairo are already complete. There thus remain only about 1,100 miles of the 6,000 miles between the Cape and Cairo to be completed.

AERONAUTICS.—Prof. Alexander. Graham Bell asserts that the problem of aerial navigation has been solved by a heavier-than-air device. The light gasoline motor, weighing but 3.8 pounds per horsepower, is an important factor of the solution.

OIL FUEL EXCLUSIVELY.—An interesting feature of the Tehuantepec Railway is the fact that oil fuel is used on the locomotives instead of wood or coal, the local supply rendering this a most desirable system, insuring independence of imported fuel.

MAGNETIC ALLOYS.—One of the most striking recent discoveries was that of the so-called magnetic alloys of manganese, copper and aluminum, containing no metal of the so-called magnetic group. Investigations of alloys of this kind show that certain of them possess excellent magnetic properties, although they do not in any case come up to the best magnetic iron.

ELECTRIC SMELTING.—In some parts of the world, where fuel is expensive, and hydraulic power abundant and cheap, electric smelting becomes commercially profitable. The most satisfactory application of electricity in steel works is for the refining of the highest grades of steel, the value of the product justifying the cost of the operation.

THE FRANCO-JAPANESE TREATY.

In June, 1907, the "arrangement" between France and Japan was made public in these terms:

"The Governments of France and of Japan have agreed to respect the independence and integrity of China, as well as the principle of equality of treatment in that country for the trade and subjects of all nations; and, having a special interest in seeing that order and a pacific state of things be guaranteed, notably in the regions of the Chinese Empire in the vicinity of the territories where they have rights of sovereignty, of protection, or of occupation, undertake to support each other in order to assure peace and security in those regions, in view of maintaining the respective position (la situation respective) and the territorial rights of the two contracting parties on the Asiatic continent. The most-favored-nation treatment will be granted to the officials and subjects of Japan in French Indo-China for everything concerning their persons and the protection of their property, and the same treatment will be applied to the subjects and protégés of French Indo-China in the Empire of Japan, and this until the expiration of the treaty of commerce and navigation signed between Japan and France on August 4, 1896."

At Paris it was considered that the Franco-Japanese agreement was for the Far East what the Franco-Spanish and Anglo-Spanish agreements are for the Western Mediterranean and for that part of the Atlantic which washes the coasts of the countries concerned. The agreements guarantee the status quo.

SKULLS modeled in Ivory were used at Pompeii as passes by those having free admission at the theaters. Hence, it is said, our term "deadhead."

THE WORD DOLLAR is derived from the German word thal, valley. It was first applied to a silver coin made in Bohemia.

ASPHALT.—Asphaltic materials occur in all forms, from fluids to solids, depending upon the amount of oxidation that the original compound has undergone.

THE FIRST NATIONAL CONVENTION to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President met in Baltimore in 1831.

IRELAND'S EXPOSITION.

An Irish International Exposition was opened at Dublin, May 4, 1907, being designed to present a picture of Irish development and progress. Men of all classes, creeds and politics, headed by the Marquis of Ormond, worked indefatigably, and a guarantee fund of nearly $1,000,000 was raised. The site was within easy reach of Dublin, and convenient to the grounds of the Royal Dublin Society at Ballsbridge. The fifty acres which it embraced contained many fine buildings. The most imposing of these was the large central hall, with a dome 150 feet high, commanding a view of Dublin and Kingston Harbor.

The Central Palace was in the Italian Renaissance style. It had four rectangular wings, which contained Irish manufactures. The Palace of Industries was a huge building, largely occupied by Irish manufacturers, but Italian and Japanese exhibitors had important sections in it. The Palace of Mechanical Arts was divided into four sections, devoted to transportation, engineering, machinery, and a generating plant for power and light. The Palace of Fine Arts, having a floor space of 30,000 feet, contained an Irish historical collection, in addition to the British and foreign collections of paintings, statuary and tapestries.

DEBT IN THE UNITED STATES.

The net national, State and municipal debt of the United States in 1902 totaled $2,789,990,120, comprising these items: Debt of the National Government, $925,011,637; of the States and Territories, $234,998,873; of the counties, $196,564,619; of cities, villages, townships, precincts, etc., $1,287,316,976; of school districts, $46,188,013. The total debt for 1902 is to be compared with $1,989,112,842 in 1890, $3,042,605,395 in 1880 and $3,199,846,714 in 1870. The aggregate debt has decreased materially since 1870, when the debt of the Federal Government was as much as $2,331,169,956. The aggregate debt of the States and Territories has also decreased since 1870, as has that of the counties, but the municipal debt has increased at a rapid rate. In 1870 the aggregate of city, village, township, precinct and school district debt was but $328,244,520, while in 1902 it was $1,387,316,976, of which $46,188,015 was school district debt. Municipal indebtedness has nearly doubled since 1890. The aggregate of State, county, municipal and school district debt in 1870, was much less than one-third of the total debt of the country, but in 1902 it is two-thirds of the total debt. Urban expenditure, in short, is expanding coincidentally with the growth of urban population.

STATE LUNACY COMMISSION.

Dr. C. F. Bevan, Baltimore City.

Dr. J. D. Blake, Baltimore City.

W. E. Gaver, M. D., Mt. Airy.

Secretary to Board—Dr. George J. Preston, 819 N. Charles Street, Baltimore.

The Governor appoints four members of this board, one annually for four years from the first Monday in May.

The State Lunacy Commission has supervision over all institutions, public, corporate, or private, in which insane persons are detained.

The Secretary of the Commission, or one member thereof, is required at least once every six months to visit all institutions in the State, including jails and almshouses where the insane are kept. The Commission makes an annual report to the Governor in the month of December. The total number of the insane in Maryland, November 30, 1907, was 3,320.

SPECIMENS OF GLASS have been found in the Egyptian tombs that are more than four thousand years old, and glass bottles are represented on tombs at least fifteen hundred years earlier. In Mesopotamia the art of making glass has been traced for at least two thousand years B. C. But all the glass of antiquity was of inferior quality and was almost useless for purposes where the rays of light were to be transmitted unbroken and with undiminished energy. Mirrors were also made in Egypt thousands of years before the Christian era. The materials used were obsidian, metal, zinc and silver. Glass mirrors are mentioned by Pliny, but as they were neither perfectly plane nor foliated they gave back a very imperfect image and were not much esteemed.

All officers paid under this table, below the rank of Rear-Admiral, are entitled to 10 per cent. increase upon the full yearly pay of their grades for each and every period of five years' service as "longevity pay," computed upon their total actual service in the Navy or Marine Corps, provided that the total amount of such increase shall not exceed 40 per cent. upon the full yearly pay of their grade.

Officers of the line, medical and pay corps, commissioned prior to July 1, 1899, are entitled to receive pay according to the then existing law whenever it is in excess of the pay of officers of corresponding rank in the Army.

Officers ordered to "shore duty beyond seas" are entitled to sea pay plus 10 per cent. increase while taking passage in a merchant vessel to their posts of duty.

Warrant officers (boatswains, gunners, carpenters, sailmakers, pharmacists, and warrant machinists) are paid from $1,200 to $1,800 a year.

Commandants' clerks and paymasters' clerks receive from $1,000 to $1,800 a year.

Petty officers (masters-at-arms, boatswains' mates, gunners' mates, gun captains, quartermasters, machinists, hospital stewards, yeomen, bandmasters, first musicians, coxswains, electricians, boiler-makers, coppersmiths, blacksmiths, plumbers and fitters, sailmakers' mates, carpenters' mates, oilers, printers, painters, water tenders, and hospital apprentices, first class, receive from $360 to $840 a year.

The pay of first-class seamen per month is $24; seamen'gunners, $26; firemen, first class, $35; musicians, first class, $32.

The pay of second-class seamen per month is: Ordinary seamen, $19; firemen, second class, $30; shipwrights, $25; musicians, second class, $30.

The pay of third-class seamen per month is: Landsmen, $16; coal passers, $22; apprentice seamen, $16.

THE EARTH'S ATMOSPHERE.—The earth's sensible atmosphere is generally supposed to extend some forty miles in height, probably farther, but becoming at only a few miles from the surface of too great a tenuity to support life. The condition and motions of this aerial ocean play a most important part in the determination of climate, modifying, by absorbing, the otherwise intense heat of the sun, and, when laden with clouds, hindering the earth from radiating its acquired heat into space.

ANTHRACITE COAL was first burned as a fuel at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in 1808.

BALTIMORE'S PASTEUR INSTITUTE.

The Pasteur Department of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Baltimore, has completed, under the direction of Dr. N. G. Keirle, the treatment of 1,000 cases for the prevention of hydrophobia. Of the 1,000 cases treated only two are reported to have died of hydrophobia. Of these one had chronic Bright's disease before treatment. The rate of mortality was one-fifth of 1 per cent., a gratifying record which compares favorably with that of the Pasteur Institut of Paris, France. Without the Pasteur treatment, the mortality from bites of rabid animals is from 5 to 80 per cent., depending upon the situation and severity of the wounds.

It was ascertained that 632 of the 1,000 persons treated were bitten by animals that were rabid. The wounds of the 1,000 patients were inflicted by dogs in 874 cases, in 65 cases by cats, in 1 by a calf, in 1 by a pet pig, in 7 by cows, in 9 by horses and in 4 by human beings. In 39 cases the wounds were not the result of bites.

Of the 1,000 persons treated 719 were males and 281 females. Three hundred and twenty-three children under 10 years old were treated, being 32 per cent. of all patents received. The youngest treated was 7 months old; the oldest, 82 years.

The 1,000 persons treated came from:

CONSTITUTION OF THE ORANGE RIVER COLONY.

The constitution given by the British Government, June 10, by letters patent, to the Orange River Colony is a grant of free institutions not less comprehensive than that made some time ago to the Transvaal Colony. There is to be a legislative assembly of 38 members, returned singly by the 27 country and 11 town constituencies, and a legislative council of 11 members, appointed at first by the Governor, but to be elected after four years by the people. Representation is to be on a voters' basis, with manhood suffrage and biennial registration, accompanied by redistribution every four years. It is provided that debates in the Legislature may be in either English or Dutch, but all journals, minutes and proceedings shall be recorded in English—a provision which makes English the official language. The only matter reserved from the control of the Legislature is the administration of the affairs of the Kaffirs. This reservation and the nominated Legislative Council are somewhat objectionable to Afrianders, but upon the whole the constitution receives a warm welcome from the Boers, to whom it means a complete restoration of domination in the Orange River Colony. In the Transvaal the English element is so numerous, as to be able to dispute at the polls the control of the government, but in the Orange River Colony it forms a very small minority of the voting population. It is believed, however, that the Boer leaders no longer cherish a purpose of separation from the British Empire, but mean to co-operate, first, for the union of all the colonies of South Africa under one government, and in the next place for the union of all with the mother country in a harmonious empire.

LAND CRISIS IN ROUMANIA.

Influenced by the agitation carried on by revolutionists in Russia, and incited by students, the peasants of Northern Roumania in 1907 began a formidable rising, attacking towns and cities and burning everything except the churches. They advanced to attack the capital and were put down only by a vigorous use of the army, after great destruction of property and the loss of many lives. Beyond their desire to possess more land and to break the oppressive contracts imposed by the proprietors and middlemen, the peasants appear to have had no definite motive in revolting;

they were entirely unable to understand the formulae of the Socialist and Anarchist propaganda of which they became the victims. These were dictated to them by the schoolmasters and the students, and, to some extent, by the foreign workmen whom the development of manufacturing industry has brought into the country. The underlying causes of the revolt have been removed by energetic means as far as possible, the government dividing large areas of land among the peasants, who previously were only lessees, while plans are being prepared for proper laws concerning the leasing of land.

UNITED STATES ARMY CADETS.

Regulations for Appointment to West Point Military Academy.

Each Congressional District and Territory, the District of Columbia, and also Porto Rico, is entitled to have one cadet at the United States Military Academy at West Point. Each State is also entitled to have two cadets at the Academy from the State at large, and forty are also allowed from the United States at large. The appointments (except those from the United States at large, the District of Columbia, and from Porto Rico), are made by the Secretary of War at the request of the Senator, Representative or Delegate in Congress; and the person appointed must be an actual resident of the State, District or Territory from which the appointment is made. The appointments from the United States at large and from the District of Columbia are specially conferred by the President. The appointment of the cadet from Porto Rico is made by the President on the recommendation of the resident Commissioner.

Application can be made at any time, by letter to the Adjutant-General, to have the name of the applicant placed upon the register that it may be furnished to the proper Senator, Representative or Delegate, when a vacancy occurs. The application must exhibit the full name, date of birth, and permanent abode of the applicant, with the number of the Congressional District in which his residence is situated.

Appointments are required by law to be made one year in advance of the date of admission, except in cases where, by reason of death or other cause, a vacancy occurs which cannot be provided for by such appointment in advance. These vacancies are filled in time for the next examination.

For each candidate appointed there may be nominated two alternates. The principal and each alternate will receive from the War Department a letter of appointment, and must appear for examination at the time and place therein designated; those previously accepted by the Academic Board on certificate as mentally qualified appearing for physical examination only.

No candidate will be admitted who is under seventeen or over twenty-two years of age, or who is deformed, or afflicted with any disease or infirmity which would render him unfit for the military service, or who has, at the time of presenting himself, any disorder of an infectious or immoral character. Accepted candidates, if between seventeen and eighteen years of age, should not fall below five feet four inches in height; if eighteen or over, not below five feet five inches in height. Candidates must be unmarried.

Each candidate must on reporting at West Point present a certificate showing successful vaccination within one year; or, a certificate of two vaccinations, made at least a month apart, within three months.

Candidates will be examined mentally and physically before boards of Army officers, at such places as the War Department may designate, on May 1 of each year. Those who pass successfully will report to the Superintendent at West Point June 15 the same year. The mental examination will be in reading, writing, spelling, English grammar, English composition, English literature, arithmetic, algebra through quadratic equations, plane geometry, descriptive geography, and the elements of physical geography, especially the geography of the United States; United States history, the outlines of general history, and the general principles of physiology and hygiene.

The Academic Board will consider and may accept properly attested certificates of competitive examinations or certificates from public high schools, colleges or universities in lieu of the regular mental entrance examination.

Every candidate for admission must be subjected to a rigid physical examination by an Army medical board after his mental qualification has been ascertained. Before receiving his warrant of appointment he must sign an engagement of service for eight years, unless sooner discharged by competent authority. He must subscribe to an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States, and bear true allegiance to the National Government; to maintain and defend the sovereignty of the United States, as paramount to that of any State.

The pay of a cadet is $500 per year and one ration per day, or commutation therefor at thirty cents per day. The total is $609.50, to commence with his admission to the Academy. The actual and necessary traveling expenses of candidates from their homes to the Military Academy are credited to their accounts after their admission as cadets. There is no provision for the expenses of candidates who fail to enter. Cadets are not permitted to receive money or other supplies from parents, or others, without the assent of the Superintendent. The pay suffices for the cadet's support. A deposit of $100 must be made at entrance to cover cost of outfit. After going through all the classes and receiving a diploma the cadet may be promoted and commissioned as second lieutenant in any arm or corps of the Army in which there is a vacancy.

MIDSHIPMEN OF THE UNITED STATES NAVY.

Rules Governing Appointments to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland.

The students of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., are styled midshipmen.

Since January 1, 1904, the minimum age for admission has been 16 years. The maximum is 20 years. A candidate is eligible for appointment on the day he becomes 16, and is not eligible on the day he becomes 20 years of age.

Two midshipmen are allowed for each Senator, Representative and Delegate in Congress, two for the District of Columbia and five each year from the United States at large. The appointments from the District of Columbia and five each year at large are made by the President.

One midshipman is allowed from Porto Rico, who must be a native of that island. The appointment is made by the President on the recommendation of the Governor of Porto Rico.

The Congressional appointments are equitably distributed so that in regular course each Senator, Representative and Delegate in Congress may appoint one midshipman during each Congress.

After June 30, 1913, each Senator, Representative and Delegate in Congress will be allowed to appoint but one midshipman, instead of two.

The course for midshipmen is six years—four years at the Academy, when the succeeding appointment is made, and two years at sea, at the expiration of which time the examination for final graduation takes place.

Midshipmen who pass the examination for final graduation are appointed to fill vacancies in the lower grades of the line of the Navy, and of the Marine Corps, in the order of merit, as determined by the Academic Board of the Naval Academy.

The Secretary of the Navy each year notifies the Senators and members of the House of Representatives of existing vacancies. All candidates allowed for Congressional Districts, for Territories and for the District of Columbia must be actual residents of the Districts or Territories, respectively, from which they are nominated.

Since 1903, the following examinations for admission of midshipmen to the Academy have been held, viz:

1. The general examination held on the third Tuesday in April, under the supervision of the Civil Service Commission, at points named.
2. A second examination at Washington, D. C., only on the second Tuesday in May, under the supervision of the Civil Service Commission.

3. A third examination at Annapolis, Md., only on the third Tuesday in June, under the supervision of the Superintendent of the Naval Academy.

Candidates are examined mentally only at the examinations held under the supervision of the Civil Service Commission. All those qualifying mentally who are entitled to appointment in order of nomination will be notified by the Superintendent of the Naval Academy when to report at the Academy for physical examination, and if physically qualified will be appointed.

Alternates are given the privilege of reporting for examination at the same time with the principals.

Should any special examination be authorized by the Secretary of the Navy, other than the above, it will be held immediately after the third Tuesday in June.

No special or general examinations for entering the Naval Academy will be begun later than June 30. The large number of midshipmen to be instructed and drilled makes this rule necessary, and is to the great advantage of the new midshipmen themselves. The summer months are utilized in preliminary instruction in professional branches and drills, such as handling boats under oars and sails, and in seamanship, gunnery and infantry drills. These practical exercises form most excellent groundwork as a preparation for the academic course.

The examination papers used in all examinations are prepared at the Naval Academy and the examination marks made by candidates are finally passed upon by the officials of the Academy.

Under the law, candidates failing to pass the entrance examination will not be allowed another examination for admission to the same class unless recommended for re-examination by the Board of Examiners.

The Civil Service Commission conducts only the examination of candidates whose names have been furnished by the Navy Department. All correspondence relative to the nomination and examination of candidates should be addressed to the Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

Nominations for examination on the third Tuesday in April should be forwarded to the Bureau ten days prior to the date of examination, as that is the latest date arrangements can be made for the examination.

MIDSHIPMEN OF THE UNITED STATES NAVY—Continued.

Candidates will be required to enter the Academy immediately after passing the prescribed examination.

No leave of absence will be granted to midshipmen of the fourth class.

Candidates will be examined physically at the Naval Academy, by a board composed of three medical officers of the Navy. Any one of a number of physical defects or diseases will be a disqualification.

Candidates will be examined mentally in reading, writing, punctuation, spelling, arithmetic, geography, English grammar, United States history, world's history, algebra through quadratic equations, and plane geometry (five books of Chauvenet's Geometry, or an equivalent). Deficiency in any one of these subjects may be sufficient to insure the rejection of the candidate.

Before entering the Academy the appointees must sign an agreement to serve in the Navy eight years, including his time of probation at the Naval Academy, unless sooner discharged.

The pay of a midshipman is $500 a year, commencing from the date of admission. The expenses attending equipment at entrance are $226.35. A preliminary deposit of $30 for clothing is required on entering the Academy.

I. FREEMAN RASIN.

Mr. I. Freeman Rasin, well known as leader for many years of the regular Democratic political organization in Baltimore, died March 9, 1907, at his residence, Calvert and Chase streets, after a brief illness, of paralysis. Born in Kent county, March 11, 1833, and educated at Washington College, Chestertown, Md., he was descended from some of the earliest and most prominent settlers in Maryland. His family was of French ancestry. The family is descended from William Rasin, who settled in Kent in 1669. Mr. Rasin's mother was Mary Rebecca Ringgold Rasin. His father, Robert Wilson Rasin, was in early life a farmer in Kent county, but moved to Baltimore, where he engaged in business as a real estate agent.

At an early age I. Freeman Rasin became a dry goods clerk. Later he engaged in business on his own account and successfully conducted it until 1867, when he was elected Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas. He was re-elected in 1873 by a majority of 14,000 and re-elected for the third term in 1879, thus serving 18 consecutive years in this office.

In 1886 he was appointed naval officer for the port of Baltimore by President Cleveland and served until 1890. Mr. Rasin was insurance commissioner from 1892 until 1895, and during Mr. Cleveland's second administration was offered the United States consulship to Berlin, but declined it. He was the delegate to the national convention that nominated Cleveland for the third time. For nearly 40 years he exercised control over the Democratic party in Baltimore.

No other man in the city ever wielded the influence Mr. Rasin possessed. He made mayors, judges, Governors, United States Senators and Congressmen, to say nothing of scores of councilmen, members of the House of Delegates, State Senators, State's attorneys, clerks of courts and other officials. Every Democratic mayor and nearly every Democratic judge the city had in 30 years owed his nomination either directly or indirectly to Mr. Rasin.

He boasted that he had never put up unworthy candidates for important places. Be this as it may, his dominance as a "boss" was resented by many Democrats of independent spirit, who held that it unwarrantably excluded men of ability and character from political careers to which all had the right to aspire. Still more objection was made to Mr. Rasin's control of the action of his nominees in the City Council and Legislature, who favored or opposed legislation at his dictation. The fate of ordinances and bills was often decided, it was alleged, according to the boss' conception of his personal or political interests.

Politics was Mr. Rasin's business. He played politics 365 days in the year. That he made a great deal of money out of politics is a matter about which there is no dispute. It was alleged that he made the bulk of his fortune in manipulating legislation at Annapolis, and most of it came from corporations within the State. Those who knew said he never took money directly from a candidate for office and never attempted to sell a nomination to the highest bidder. His aloofness and pride of birth are illustrated in his saying, "I have been buying people all my life, but nobody ever bought me." In personal transactions he was jealous of his honor. A candidate, for example, who had been nominated for an office asked Mr. Rasin how much money he needed to finance the campaign. A sum was named and paid over. After the election in an interview with the successful candidate the city leader handed him a statement in which a detailed account of the expenditures was given. The statement was glanced at and thrown into the fire. Mr. Rasin then handed over $2,000, which he said was the unexpended balance.

"I don't want that," said the ex-candidate. "That's part of the campaign fund. I told you to be liberal."

"Oh, yes, you do," said Mr. Rasin, "You can't buy me that way. You can serve me and my friends plenty of other ways, but you take that money."

One of the qualities which largely contributed to Mr. Rasin's success was the ability he possessed to keep in touch with and retain the confidence and friendship of many of the best and most prominent Democrats of the city and at the same time to handle with a skill that kept them loyal the ward workers and practical politicians. He dealt with the highest and the lowest classes with equal facility, and it was a trait upon which he prided himself.

To his political subordinates Mr. Rasin was a dictator. A man of tireless energy, great vigor of mind and body, resourceful, shrewd, bold, capable and self-reliant, he ruled with a rod of iron. He was no "milk-and-water" leader. Either a man did as he said or was cast out. There was little personal magnetism about him. It was not his tact that kept him in power, because he never minced words, and it was not his disposition, because he never let sentiment interfere with what he called business. No one had his complete confidence and no one was his confidential adviser. He took no one's advice. It was in 1864 that he first became a member of the Democratic executive committee, but he started before that as a ward leader in the old Seventh ward. In a few years he developed into a district leader. Other district leaders at that time were "Doc" Slater and John W. Davis. Mr. Rasin, growing stronger all the time, finally went in and made the fight for control of the city, the other leaders combining against him. Mr. Rasin supported Joshua Vansant for mayor, while Slater and the others lined up behind Robert T. Banks. It was a hot fight and the methods in the primaries were rough. Mr. Vansant won without much trouble and was elected. That not only gave to Mr. Rasin the patronage of the city administration, but control of the party machine as well. Then it was—in 1872—that he assumed the leadership which he never surrendered until he laid it down an ill man.

Since 1895 there had been no mayor in the City Hall friendly to Mr. Rasin, although neither ex-Mayor Hayes nor the late Mayor McLane could have been nominated had he not approved. His organization, it was said, had been practically without patronage for more than 12 years, yet his grip when he was taken ill was as firm as it had ever been and the loyalty of his followers appeared undiminished.

Mr. Rasin was one of the most accessible of politicians. At his office and his house he was easy to see, and never sent word to a caller that he was not at home when he was. He was interested in almost everything. He liked to hear gossip and he remembered all he heard. He had an astonishing faculty for getting news, and there was little on the inside of financial, business, social and religious, as well as political circles, that he did not know.

He had a way of talking that impressed what he said on his listener's mind, and the manner in which he said things was original. His devotion to his family was marked. It was said of him that he was not liberal in dividing his profits at Annapolis. In deals where he made thousands the men who did the work for him were given a few hundreds. Sometimes they "kicked" and got more, but Mr. Rasin is said to have been a good bluffer.

Up to the time of his death he kept his love of horses. He liked to talk horse and he was fond of driving, though in recent years he had not done much of it.

CENTENNIAL OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND.

On May 30 the University of Maryland entered upon the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of its founding with ceremonies, receptions, reunions, collations, banquets and addresses, which continued to June 2, inclusive. On the first day representatives of other universities, invited guests, visiting alumni and candidates for degrees were received on the university campus, corner of Lombard and Greene streets, after which there was an inspection of the university's admirable plant—the hospital, laboratories and other buildings. The evening brought class reunions, dinners and other incidents calculated to warm the hearts of those participating. Friday was a day of academic ceremonies at the Lyric, with an address and conferring of degrees, followed in the evening by a banquet, music and speeches at the same place. Saturday the center of interest was transferred to St. John's College, Annapolis (the academic department of the university), where there was a reception and concert on the campus. On Sunday the regents, faculties, invited guests, alumni, graduates and undergraduates heard at Mount Vernon Methodist Episcopal Church the baccalaureate sermon preached by Right Rev. L. B. Wilson, M. B., D. D., an alumnus of the university.

The exercises brought together from all parts of the world a large number of men eminent in their respective professions. As educators and practitioners, the alumni hold high rank. The university's department of medicine, department of law, department of arts and sciences, department of dentistry and department of pharmacy vie in their respective spheres with the best institutions of the United States. Some of the institutions that constitute the university are among the oldest of their class in this country. The department of medicine, for example, has 5,499 graduates. The Academic department, founded in November, 1739, numbers George Washington among its students and Francis Scott Key among its 730 graduates, besides four Governors of Maryland and six Senators of the United States, not to mention many statesmen of lesser note, officers of the army and navy and distinguished educators. The graduates in law number, 1,274; pharmacy, 1,109; dentistry, 1,257; (old) arts and sciences, 14.

THE SECOND DOUMA DISSOLVED.

The Second Douma, Parliament, or National Assembly, of Russia, assembled March 6, 1907. Its dissolution, June 16, 1907, had for its immediate cause the failure of that body to respond at once to Premier Stolypin's demand for the exclusion of certain members of the lower house accused of a plot against the Czar, and the arrest of those declared to be most compromised. The committee of the Douma entrusted with the examination of the indictments against the accused Social-Democratic members asked that it be given from Saturday until Monday to report. The Douma so ordered and adjourned until Monday. Early Sunday morning an imperial ukase was issued dissolving the Douma and ordering that new elections to another Douma be held, beginning September 14, and that the new legislative body be convoked on November 14, 1907.

In a manifesto issued with the ukase the Czar set forth the grounds for his action, coupled with the announcement of his determination to abrogate the electoral law and to replace it by a new one. He declared that the second Douma was summoned to contribute, according to his sovereign will, to the pacification of Russia, principally by the work of legislation; next, by an examination of the budget, and, finally, by the national use of the right of addressing interpellations to the government. A considerable section of the second Douma failed to justify his expectations, displaying a manifest tendency to augment Russia's troubles and assist in the disruption of the state. A hostile spirit was introduced into the Douma itself which prevented the union of a sufficient number of its members desirous of working for the interests of the country, and that body either failed to discuss important measures which were drawn up by the government, or rejected them, not even recoiling from the rejection of laws which punished the open support of crimes, and particularly assassinations and acts of violence. The Czar finally referred to the case of the accused members in regard to which "the Douma failed to carry out immediately the lawful demand of the authorities, which admitted of no delay."

The main cause of the Douma's failure to answer expectations the Czar found in the fact that, owing to defects in the electoral law, that body was composed of members who were not truly representative of the needs and desires of the people. He announced, therefore, that he had decided to modify the procedure in choosing elective representatives of the people to the Douma, in order that each section of the people might have its own representatives. The Douma, he said, should be Russian in spirit, and while other nationalities forming part of the empire ought to have representatives of their needs in that body, they ought not to appear in such numbers as would make it possible for them to be arbiters of questions which are purely Russian. Within the confines of the state where the people have not attained sufficient civic development, the elections to the Douma must be temporarily suspended. Recognizing that the necessary "electoral modifications" could not have been introduced in the customary legislative way by the Douma, the Czar resorted to his "historic power" and announced that he gave Russia a new electoral law and ordered its promulgation in the Senate.

A reduction was accordingly made in the deputations from the eastern and Siberian provinces, which returned Radical deputies to the late Douma; the representation from Poland was cut down and a decrease made in the Caucasus region. Increases in the number of delegates were provided for in certain provinces and cities which returned Conservative members. Of twenty-four towns formerly electing representatives directly, only seven were to retain the method of direct election. Direct representation of workmen was retained in only six provinces, and peasant deputies were required to be house owners personally engaged in agriculture. Officials say that under the new law no single class possessing the franchise under the existing law lost it. It seems certain, however, that the representatives of certain elements in the population were intended to be fewer in the third Douma, which was to have 442 instead of 524 members—a reduction of 82. European Russia lost nine, its future contingent being 403 instead of 412; Poland, with 14 instead of 37, lost 23; the Caucasus was deprived of 19, receiving ten instead of 29; Asiatic Russia was shorn of 31, dropping from 46 to 15.

The first Russian Parliament was opened May 10, 1906. It was dissolved by a ukase on account of alleged inefficiency, July 22 of the same year.

THE average duration of human life, the world over, is about 33 years. One-quarter of the people on the earth die before age 6, one-half before age 16, and only about 1 person of each 100 born live to the age of 65.

DOMESTIC POSTAL RATES.

Classes.	Postage.	Weight.
I. Letters and sealed packages. Postals cards.	2 cents each ounce or fraction. 1-cent.	4 lbs.
II. Newspapers and periodical publications that have been entered as second-class matter, when mailed by persons other than the publishers.	1 cent each 4 ounces or fraction.	No limit.
III. Circulars, books, and matter wholly in print, engravings, lithographs, photo- graphs, blank checks, deeds, insurance policies, etc., proof with manuscript accompanying same, and other printed matter not in nature of personal corre- spondence, visiting cards, business cards, etc.	1 cent each 2 ounces or fraction.	4 lbs.
IV. Merchandise and matter not included in any of above classes.	1 cent each ounce or fraction.	4 lbs.

REGULATIONS.

Class 1. Includes letters, postal cards, sealed packages, all matter wholly or partly in writing, whether manuscript or produced by typewriter or copying press, books with written entries, manuscript for publication not accompanied by proof sheets, and all personal correspondence, whether in writing or in print. No writing or printing is allowed on the address side of postal cards except the address.

Class 2. Nearly every newspaper and magazine published in the United States belongs to the second class, and foreign publications which, if issued here, would be admitted to that class, may be mailed at the rate given above. Second-class matter must be so enveloped that it can be readily examined without destroying the wrappers. When mailed by publishers or news agents, the rate is 1 cent for each pound or fraction thereof.

Class 3. Single books may be sent at the third-class rate, even though they may exceed the 4-pound limit of weight.

The sender may write or print on a label, tag, envelope or wrapper of third-class matter, his own name, occupation and residence or business address, preceded by the word "from."

Class 4. There are specific regulations for packing merchandise and samples of goods sent as fourth-class matter. Proprietary articles, such as powders, pills, fancy soaps, may be sent in original packages, sealed. Seeds and other articles requiring to be specially protected may be put in sealed envelopes if the envelopes are transparent enough to permit the nature of the contents to be ascertained. Admissible liquids, oils, pastes, salves, ointments, fresh fruits and vegetables liable to decomposition, etc., may be sent under specified regulations.

FOREIGN POSTAGE RATES.

On and after October 1st, 1907, the postage rates on letters addressed to Foreign Countries (except Canada, Mexico, Panama, Cuba and Shanghai) will be as follows: Five (5) cents for the first ounce, and three (3) cents for each additional ounce or fraction thereof. Canada and Mexico enjoy our domestic rates. Postage rates and conditions for all articles other than letters addressed to Foreign Countries remain unchanged. Postage should be fully prepaid, as the deficiency will be collected upon delivery.

A "reply-coupon" will be placed on all at postoffices (price six (6) cents) which, upon presentation at postoffice Foreign Countries (with certain exceptions), will entitle the person presenting it to receive (without charge) postage stamp of that country. By its arrangement a person in the United States can furnish his correspondent with a postage stamp with which to prepay postage on a reply to his letter.

The rate will continue to be 1 cent for 2 ounces or fraction thereof on newspapers, periodicals, circulars and other printed matter; limit of weight, 4 pounds 6 ounces; on merchandise samples, 2 cents for 4 ounces and 1 cent for each additional 2 ounces; limit of weight, 12 ounces. Commercial papers, such as deeds, insurance policies, stamped or unstamped paper, manuscript music and manuscript of works, 5 cents per 10 ounces and 1 cent for each additional 2 ounces; limit of weight, 4 pounds 6 ounces.

The United States domestic classification, conditions and rates of postage apply to all mail addressed to Cuba, Guam, Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines, Panama and the Canal Zone, and Shanghai, China.

PROHIBITED MATTER.

The following articles are unmailable under any circumstances: Liquids, ardent, vinous, spirituous or malt, or those liable to explosion or spontaneous combustion; inflammable oils, poisons, explosives; animals, alive or dead (stuffed natural specimens excepted); explosive or poisonous powders, matches, insects (except queen bees and their attendant bees and dried insects when safely secured), substances exhaling an offensive odor; all articles not properly packed which are liable to destroy, deface or damage other mail matter, or to harm the person of anyone in the postal service; obscene and indecent books, prints, writings or papers; all letters upon envelopes of which, or postal cards upon which, indecent, scurrilous or defamatory delineations or language are written or printed; all matter concerning lotteries, so-called gift concerts, or other similar enterprises offering prizes, or concerning schemes devised or intended to defraud the public, or for the purpose of obtaining money under false pretenses.

PARCELS POST.

Unsealed packages of mailable merchandise may be sent by parcels post to Jamaica, Barbados, the Bahamas, Bermuda, Bolivia, British Honduras, Ecuador, Guatemala, Mexico, Chili, Germany, Hong Kong, Japan, Leeward Islands, Norway, Republic of Colombia, Salvador, Costa Rica, Danish West Indies, British Guiana, Newfoundland, Trinidad, Windward Islands, the Republic of Honduras, Nicaragua, Venezuela and New Zealand at postage rate of 12 cents per pound or fraction thereof. Limit of weight, 11 pounds, except on parcels for Denmark, Germany, Hong Kong, Norway and Sweden, to which countries 4 pounds 6 ounces is the limit. Packages must be mailed between 9 A. M. and 5 P. M., and a customs declaration signed by senders at the postoffice.

The exceptions are Bolivia, Ecuador, Peru and Chili, to which countries the rates are 20 cents per pound.

Registered Matter.—The rate on registered packages and letters is 8 cents, in addition to regular postage.

Postage to Canada and Mexico, same rates and conditions of prepayment as for domestic matter.

Australia's limit, 4 pounds 6 ounces. Belgium's limit, 4 pounds 6 ounces. Great Britain and Ireland's limit, 4 pounds 6 ounces, 12 cents per pound. Parcels cannot be registered for Great Britain and Ireland and Barbados.

The limit of value for the following parcels-post countries is $50.00: Australia, Belgium, Denmark, Ecuador, Germany, Great Britain and Ireland, Hong Kong, Japan, Peru, Norway and Sweden.

VOTERS WHO DID NOT VOTE.

At the election of May 7, 1907, there were more Republicans who did not vote than there were Democrats. There were 7,231 Republicans registered and entitled to vote who did not go to the polls, while the number of Democrats who stayed at home was 7,065. The number of "declined" voters who did not cast their ballots was 2,016. The total shows that 16,312 registered voters did not vote.

The total number that did vote was 98,370. Of that number, 49,621 were Democrats, 40,850 Republicans and 7,899 "declined" voters. The ward where there was the greatest number of "stay-at-homes" was the Sixteenth, where 883 registered voters did not vote. In the Fifteenth Ward 853 did not vote. The Second Ward made the best showing in the vote polled, there being only 436 who did not vote. Of that number 213 were Democrats, 142 Republicans and 81 "declined." The following table gives the vote in detail:

THE IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

The "conference" which met in London in April, 1907, to consider means of strengthening the tie that unites the self-governing colonies of the British Empire with the mother country, consisted of the prime ministers of such colonies, together with a representative of India and the colonial secretary. There were present Mr. Alfred Deakin, of the Commonwealth of Australia; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, of the Dominion of Canada; Sir Robert Bond, of Newfoundland; Dr. L. S. Jameson, of Cape Colony; Gen. Louis Botha, of the Transvaal; Mr. F. R. Moor, of Natal; Sir Joseph Ward, of New Zealand; Sir James Mackay, of the India Office, and Lord Elgin, secretary for the colonies. Previous conferences were somewhat informal, assembling only at the invitation of the colonial secretary. The conference held in April assumed a definite status. It decided to meet regularly every four years, or oftener if necessary, under the presidency of the prime minister of the United Kingdom, the colonial secretary presiding in his absence. The conference changed its name from Colonial Conference to Imperial Conference partly in recognition of its enhanced importance and partly because India was represented in its membership. An arrangement was made for giving continuity to the work of the conference by creating a permanent secretariat, which is to conduct prescribed inquiries, mature topics for discussion and carry on correspondence in regard to common industrial, commercial and political interests. The secretariat is to be a bureau of the Colonial Department in London, but is given no legislative or executive authority. Of equal moment was the creation of an imperial general staff to facilitate co-operation in defence of the empire. Trade preference was the most important topic brought before the conference. The colonies regard trade preferences by means of discriminating duties the best means of unifying the empire, and suggested that the tariff rates of the United Kingdom be lowered on colonial products in exchange for a like lowering of colonial rates on the products of the mother country. Some desired free trade, as far as possible, within the empire, with a tariff wall against all outsiders. The present ministry, however, having been brought into power, as it believed, on the issue of free trade, declined, as was expected, to impose discriminating duties on imports from foreign countries in return for preferential colonial rates. It refused also to lower existing duties in exchange for colonial tariff favors now received. As respects the great matter of imperial "preference," the conference was accordingly a failure, but its proceedings are said to have won friends for the principle. Various non-contentious matters were arranged with a fair degree of success, and the empire will doubtless profit from the interchange of ideas in the conference.

KUROKI ENTERTAINED.

Gen. Baron Kuroki and other officers of the Japanese army and navy represented the Japanese Government at the opening of the Jamestown Exposition. The entertainment of the Japanese army and navy officers visiting the United States reached its climax in a banquet given May 17 in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor, New York, by prominent citizens of the city. The official guests of honor were Viscount Aoki, the Japanese Ambassador to the United States; Gen. Baron Kuroki and Vice-Admiral Ijūin, of the Japanese Navy. Included with them were the members of General Kuroki's party and the officers of the Japanese cruisers Tsukuba and Chitose. Admiral George Dewey, the senior officer of the United States Navy, presided.

KNOTS AND MILES.

The statute mile is 5,280 feet.

The British Admiralty knot or nautical mile is 6,080 feet.

The statute knot is 6,082.66 feet, and is generally considered the standard. The number of feet in a statute knot is arrived at thus: The circumference of the earth is divided into 360 degrees, each degree containing 60 knots or (360x60) 21,600 knots to the circumference. 21,600 divided into 131,385,456—the number of feet in the earth's circumference—gives 6,082.66 feet—the length of a standard mile.

1 knot = 1.151 miles	5 knots = 5.757 miles	6 feet = 1 fathom
2 knots = 2.303 miles	10 knots = 11.515 miles	600 feet = 1 cable
3 knots = 3.454 miles	20 knots = 23.030 miles	10 cables = 1 knot
4 knots = 4.606 miles	25 knots = 28.787 miles

To find the high water at Jamestown Island, for instance, August 1st, 1908, find the times of high water at Baltimore, August 1st, which is 9 h. 36 m. A. M., and 10 h. 0 m. P. M.; from these subtract 7 h. 12 m., as found in the above table, and we have 2 h. 24 m. A. M., and 2 h. 48 m. P. M., as the times of high water at Jamestown Island on that day.

TREATY WITH SANTO DOMINGO.

The new treaty between the United States and Santo Domingo, ratified by the Senate in February, 1907, was ratified by the Congress of the latter republic in May. The United States becomes a trustee of Santo Domingo, receiving from the Dominican custom houses the money required to pay the Dominican debt. In December, 1904, President Morales agreed to have the Dominican custom houses occupied by Americans and to have the receipts applied to the payment of his country's obligations. On March 31, 1905, this agreement gave way to a modus vivendi, which has been in force till now. Under this arrangement an American collector was put in charge and 55 per cent. of the customs was to be deposited in New York for the benefit of creditors. As much as $3,000,000 was thus accumulated in New York; which sum will be used to carry out the purposes of the new treaty. The creditors of Santo Domingo having agreed to accept a settlement at 50 cents on the dollar, $20,000,- 000 of 5 per cent bonds were issued and the whole issue has been taken by a New York firm. The new treaty authorizes the President of the United States to appoint a collector of Dominican customs, who shall receive all revenue as long as the bonds mentioned above are outstanding. This, it is estimated, will be from 20 to 40 years. Out of the receipts the collector is to pay the expenses of the receivership, annual interest on the $20,000,000 of bonds and an allowance for a sinking fund, paying $100,000 monthly to the fiscal agent for the loan. The remainder of the receipts is to be turned over to the Dominican Government. If the customs receipts exceed $3,000,000 a year half of the surplus is to go into the sinking fund. The Dominican Government is pledged not to increase its public debt or modify its import duties without the consent of the United States. On the other hand, the United States guarantees the protection of the United States to the receiver and his assistants.

TERRITORIAL EXPANSION OF THE UNITED STATES.

The additions to the original territory of the Union, including Alaska, the Hawaiian, Philippine, and Samoan Islands and Guam, in the Pacific, and Porto Rico and Pine Islands, in the West Indies, and the Panama Canal zone (acquired by treaty February 26, 1904), make the total area of the United States now five times that of the original thirteen colonies.

The additions to the territory of the United States subsequent to the peace treaty with Great Britain of 1783 are shown by the following table:

ADDITIONS TO THE TERRITORY OF THE UNITED STATES FROM 1800 TO 1900.

The above estimate was made for 1890. At present the total population is larger.

Before the fifteenth century the population of Europe hardly exceeded 50,000,000. At the accession of Tiberius Caesar it was little over 54,000,000.

The area of the Earth is 196,971,984 square miles; cubic contents, 259,944,035,515 cubic miles. It is estimated that the Earth's fertile area, in square miles, is 28,269,200; steppe, 13,901,000; desert, 4,180,000; polar regions, 4,888,800.

Murray puts the greatest depth of the Atlantic Ocean at 27,366 feet; Pacific Ocean, 30,000 feet; Indian Ocean, 18,582 feet; Southern Ocean, 25,200 feet; Arctic Ocean, 9,000 feet. The Atlantic Ocean has an area, in square miles, of 24,536,000; Pacific Ocean, 50,309,000; Indian Ocean, 17,084,000; Arctic Ocean, 4,781,000; Southern Ocean, 30,592,000. The highest mountain is believed to be Deodhunga, or Everest, one of the Himalayas, 29,002 feet.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The present House of Commons consists of 670 members—465 for England, 30 for Wales, 72 for Scotland and 103 for Ireland.

The division of parties in the House of Commons, returned in the general elections of January and February, 1906, was as follows: Conservatives and Liberal-Unionists, 158; Liberals, 387; Nationalists, 84, and 41 Independent Labor members; the ministerial majority being 354. Bye elections in 1907 diminished this majority.

The Speaker of the House is the Rt. Hon. James William Lowther, M. P. for Penrith.

SOUTHERN PROGRESS.

Certain definite facts have been demonstrated by the achievements of the South in an industrial way during the last 10 years. Things which were regarded a decade ago as mere possibilities have become matters of record. It has been proved that, given a fair price, the South is able to increase its production of cotton fast enough to keep pace with the world's increasing needs. The 5,977,000 bales of 1887 became 8,281,000 bales in 1897 and 10,919,000 bales in 1906. It has been shown also that the practical monopoly of the world's cotton trade is so firmly fixed in the South that all fear of successful rivalry for 50 years to come may be dismissed from consideration. It was 10 years ago open to question whether the South could compete successfully with New England in the manufacture of cotton goods. It is now a question whether New England can compete with the South. In 1906 Southern cotton mills consumed 2,374,225 bales, against 2,349,478 bales consumed in Northern mills.

As in cotton, so in iron. Alabama, it has been shown by the logic of facts, can compete with Pennsylvania. The South can assemble the raw materials at a cost which enables it to produce iron and steel $2 to $3 a ton cheaper than any other part of the world. The Bessemer process, which long gave Northern steel interests supremacy, is now being fast superseded in England, Germany and this country by the basic process—the process to which Southern ores are best suited. Ten years ago steel was not produced in the South. At present Birmingham has a large and growing steel industry and Birmingham steel rails are conceded to be the best made in this country. The success in ironmaking of the last decade gives promise that in the not very remote future the South is to be one of the world's greatest centers for iron and steel, and finished products of these materials. The pig-iron output, which was 829,854 long tons in 1887, was 1,913,346 tons in 1897 and 3,467,216 tons in 1906. As the ore supply of the Lake Superior district approaches exhaustion the abundant iron ores of the South must strengthen its hold upon the iron and steel industries of the country. Important in this connection is the record of coal production in the past decade, which was 571,629,336 tons, against 236,494,017 tons in the decade 1887-1896.

The output of 120,000,000,000 feet of lumber in the last 10 years calls into prominence the fact that the country now looks to the South for its main supply of that material. Large wood-working industries have come into existence, and North Carolina is now Michigan's chief rival in the manufacture of furniture.

The development of water powers to the extent of 500,000 horsepower for the generation of electricity is a recent work of Southern enterprise. Following from the general improvement of Southern railways and their increase of mileage from 48,133 miles in 1896 to 64,035 miles in 1906, the development of the export business of Southern ports has been a striking phenomenon. The Gulf ports obtain at length the benefit of their nearness to certain Western centers of agricultural production. New Orleans, Port Arthur and Galveston have had extraordinary increments of trade, to say nothing of Mobile, Pensacola, Brunswick and Savannah. In 1906 the increase of exports of breadstuffs from six Southern ports over the preceding year was from $30,850,182 to $68,701,522, or more than 122 per cent. The assessed value of real and personal property in the South in 1906 was $8,025,050,496, or $2,824,859,678 more than in 1860. The true value was $20,500,000,000. The 25,900,000 people of the South are evidently hustlers and may point with pride to the practical results of their labor in the last 10 years.

STATE TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIUM.

An important piece of constructive legislation accomplished in Maryland in late years was the law establishing the Tuberculosis Sanatorium, enacted at the session of 1906. This law begins the care of consumptives by the State, and as the disease has been proved curable in its early stages, the good which can and probably will be accomplished is enormous. Under the law a commission is to establish an institution to be known as the Maryland Tuberculosis Sanatorium, accessible by railroad or water transportation. The sum of $115,000 was appropriated by the Legislature for the establishment of the sanatorium and for its maintenance during 1907 and 1908. And it is the design that consumptive patients shall be cared for free of charge. In the Blue Ridge Mountains, in the Alleghenies and in other parts of Maryland the climate is especially favorable to the cure of consumption, and not only will cures be effected, but by removing patients from their families the spread of the disease will be diminished.

In addition to this provision an appropriation of $15,000 for the year 1907 was given by the Legislature to the "Hospital for Consumptives of Maryland," an institution already established and doing a good work. Of this sum $10,000 is to be used in the erection of buildings in the mountain regions of the State and $5,000 for maintenance.

For the year 1908 the appropriation is $20,000, $15,000 of which is for buildings and $5,000 for maintenance. Thus the Legislature appropriated in 1906 no less than $150,000 to begin the work of fighting and eradicating the most deadly malady with which the people of Maryland are afflicted.

THE GREGORIAN CALENDAR.

The Gregorian Calendar was accepted immediately or shortly after its promulgation by all Roman Catholic countries. The Protestant states of Germany and the Kingdom of Denmark adhered to the Julian Calendar till 1750. It was in 1752 that the British Parliament abolished the Julian Calendar, or old style, as it was called. The act of Parliament decreed that the day following September 2, 1752, should be called the 14th of that month.

When the alteration was made by Gregory it was only necessary to drop ten days; the year 1700 having intervened, which was a common year in the Gregorian, but a leap year in the Julian Calendar, it was now necessary to drop eleven days.

The "old style" is still adhered to in Russia.

THERMOMETRIC SCALES.

Taking Fahrenheit's scale the boiling point of water is 212°, whereas in the Centigrade scale it is 100°.

The freezing point of water is 32° Fahr. and 0° centigrade.

Consequently 180° plus 32° Fahr. is equal to 100° Centigrade.

So, to convert Fahrenheit to Centigrade, subtract 32, multiply by 5 and divide by 9.

To convert Centigrade to Fahrenheit multiply by 9, divide by 5 and add 32. This does away with the recurrence of decimals.

Similarly, according to Reaumur's scale, the boiling point of water is 80° and the freezing point 0°.

To convert Fahrenheit to Reaumur subtract 32, multiply by 4 and divide by 9.

To convert Reaumur to Fahrenheit multiply by 9, divide by 4 and add 32.

STANDARD TIME.

For the convenience of railroads, a standard time was established by agreement in 1883, by which trains are run and local time regulated. The United States, extending from 65° to 125° west longitude, is divided into four sections, each of 15° of longitude, equivalent to one hour, beginning with the 75th meridian. The first (eastern) section includes all territory between the Atlantic Coast and an irregular line drawn from Detroit to Charleston, S. C. The second (central) section includes all the territory between the last-named line and an irregular line from Bismarck, N. D., to the mouth of the Rio Grande. The third (mountain) section includes all territory between the last-named line and nearly the western borders of Idaho,

Utah and Arizona. The fourth (Pacific) section includes the rest of the country to the Pacific Coast. Standard time is the same for all places inside each of these sections, and the time of each section differs from that next to it by exactly one hour. Thus at 12 noon in New York City (eastern time), the time at Chicago (central time) is 11 o'clock, A. M.; at Denver (mountain time), 10 o'clock A. M., and at San Francisco (Pacific time), 9 o'clock A. M. At some places in each section Standard time is slower, at other places faster than true local time. Baltimore has "eastern" time, along with Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Richmond, Norfolk, Charleston, Pittsburg, Buffalo, Montréal, etc.

THE ORIGIN OF AMERICAN COLD WAVES.

Professor Cleveland Abbe, of the United States Weather Bureau, gives three theories which are held regarding the origin of North American cold waves. One holds that cold waves are due to upper westerly winds which blow over the Rocky Mountains toward barometric depressions. The descending air, dry and clear, cools by radiation more rapidly than it warms by compression. A second theory holds that cold waves are horizontal protrusions to the south from great areas of cold, lower air in Arctic America. A thin lower stratum of this cold air is drawn southward by a cyclonic area in tropical America, the Gulf States or the West Indies. According to the third theory a cold, upper anti-trade comes from equatorial regions to the Arctic on gentle gradients. Its temperature is so low that when it finally descends to sea-level in latitudes 50°-70° north, the warming by compression does not raise its temperature above the low readings noted in severe cold waves. Professor Abbe thinks that possibly all three theories must be combined in order to explain actual conditions.

WILLS.

A will is a disposition of a person's property to take effect after death. A codicil is an addition or alteration. All persons are competent to make a will except idiots, persons of unsound mind, and infants. In some states a will of an unmarried woman is revoked by her subsequent marriage. A nuncupative will is one made orally by a soldier in active service, by a mariner while at sea.

In most states a will must be in writing, signed by the testator, or by some person in his presence, and by his direction, and attested by witnesses, who subscribe their names thereto in the presence of the testator. The term of wording a will is immaterial so long as the intent is clear.

The age at which persons may make wills is in most of the states 21 years. Females are competent to make wills at 18 years in Maryland. In Virginia and West Virginia persons 18 years of age may dispose by will of personal property only. Two witnesses are required in most states.

MCDONOGH SCHOOL.

McDonogh, Baltimore County, Western Maryland Railroad.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

President—Robert H. Smith.

Vice-President and Secretary—Vacant.

Treasurer—Robert K. Waring.

Julian LeRoy White.

R. Brent Keyser.

D. C. Ammidon.

E. Stanley Gary.

Dr. J. M. T. Finney.

Principal of the School—S. T. Moreland.

The qualifications of candidates for admission into this free school for boys, founded by John McDonogh, who was born in Baltimore, December 29, 1779, and died in New Orleans, October 26, 1850, are as follows:

1. They must be poor boys, of good character, of respectable associations in life, residents of the City of Baltimore.
2. They must be sound and healthy in mind and body.
3. They must be between 10 and 14 years of age.
4. They must pass a competitive examination.

Applicants for admission should be made to Robert H. Smith, President of the Board of Trustees, 624 Equitable Building, at any time of the year. Applications, however, are so numerous that admission is determined by competitive examinations held early in June at some convenient place in Baltimore, of which candidates are notified. The examinations are based on the work of the Public Schools of Baltimore, a different set of questions being given to the boys of the several grades—Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth. The subjects of examination are arithmetic, reading, geography and a composition on an assigned subject as a test of the knowledge of English. The regular term at the school ends when the boy is 16 years of age, but the earning of an honorary scholarship may enable him to continue there one year longer.

The property of the foundation consists of 835 acres of land in a beautiful and healthy region, 12 miles northwest of Baltimore City, with commodious buildings; an endowment fund of $725,600 from John McDonogh invested in Baltimore City bonds; bequest of Dr. Zenus Barnum of $80,000 to promote mechanical instruction and manual training; bequest of Samuel H. Taggart of $175,000.

OLD ENGLISH HOLIDAYS.

These holidays are still observed generally or in some parts of Britain:

JANUARY 6. TWELFTH DAY, or Twelfth-tide, sometimes called Old Christmas Day, the same as Epiphany. The previous evening is Twelfth Night.

FEBRUARY 2. CANDLEMAS: Festival of the Purification of the Virgin. Consecration of the lighted candles to be used in the Church during the year.

FEBRUARY 14. OLD CANDLEMAS: St. Valentine's Day.

MARCH 25. LADY DAY: Annunciation of the Virgin. April 6 is Old Lady Day.

JUNE 24. MIDSUMMER DAY: Feast of the Nativity of John the Baptist. July 7 is old Midsummer Day.

JULY 15. ST. SWITHIN'S DAY. There was a superstition that if rain fell on this day it would continue forty days.

AUGUST 1. LAMMAS DAY: Originally the festival of the wheat harvest. In the Church the festival of St. Peter's miraculous deliverance from prison. Old Lammas Day is August 13.

SEPTEMBER 29. MICHAELMAS: Feast of St. Michael, the Archangel. Old Michaelmas is October 11.

NOVEMBER 1. ALL-HALLOWEAS: All-hallows, or All Saints' Day. The previous evening is All-hallow-e'en, observed by home gatherings and festive rites.

NOVEMBER 2. ALL SOULS' DAY: Day of prayer for the souls of the dead.

NOVEMBER 11. MARTINMAS: Feast of St. Martin. Old Martinmas is November 23.

DECEMBER 28. CHILDERMAS: Holy Innocents' Day.

LADY DAY, Midsummer Day, Michaelmas and Christmas are quarter (rent) days in England, and Whitsunday, Martinmas, Candlemas, and Lammas Day in Scotland.

Shrove Tuesday, the day before Ash Wednesday, and Maundy Thursday, the day before Good Friday, are observed by the Church. Mothering Sunday is Mid-Lent Sunday, in which the rural custom obtains of visiting one's parents and making them presents.

Peninsula Junction	14

This useful table shows at a glance the character of the country in the different sections of the State: the highlands of the western counties; the elevated plateau of central Maryland with its beautiful rolling country and wooded ridges and fertile valleys; the level lands of the Eastern Shore, together with the somewhat higher elevations of southern Maryland on the western side of the bay.

The highest elevation—3,700 feet—is on the Backbone Mountain of Garrett county. Next in order are the altitudes of Allegany and Washington counties; then Frederick and Montgomery. Carroll, Harford, Howard and Baltimore are in a section of rolling country, well elevated, with some localities ranging from 400 to 1,000 feet in altitude. In southern Maryland there are fairly good elevations in Anne Arundel, Prince George's, Calvert, Charles and St. Mary's. In the nine counties of the Eastern Shore there is a gradual falling off in the elevations from Cecil to Worcester.

Tri-Church Union.

The General Council of the Congregational, United Brethren and Methodist Protestant denominations met in Dayton, Ohio, February 7, 1906, to determine what the relations of these three churches should be. The Council adopted a resolution declaring it to be the "first and chief business" of the body to "provide for the organic union" of the three denominations and expressing the belief that "such a result is practicable." Outlines were adopted on the three great divisions agreed upon, viz., "Doctrine," "Polity" and "Vested Interests," and sub-committees named to work out the details during the eighteen months until the next meeting of the Council.

This council met in Chicago, Ill., March 19, 1907. In lieu of the reports from the separate sub-committees, it adopted an "Act of Union" for presentation to the several denominations as the finished work of the General Council of the three churches. As the National Council of the Congregational Churches of the United States, which met in Cleveland, Ohio, October 8-17, 1907, instead of adopting the Act of Union, and sending it down to the various Congregational Associations and through them to the several local churches for final ratification, recorded its "conviction that the Congregational Churches would go forward to consummate union with the Church of the United Brethren in Christ and the Methodist Protestant Church." But as "there had arisen divergent opinions as to certain clauses, and as to the effect of certain provisions in the Act of Union," an invitation was extended to the other two denominations to unite with the Congregationalists in referring the Act of Union to a General Council of the three churches to afford further opportunity for perfecting the plan of union—"the General Council to report its results to the national body of each denomination." The effect of this is to leave the question of the corporate union of the three denominations just about where it now is for three more years, or until the Council meets in the fall of 1910. The movement for union was initiated by the United Brethren Church asking the Methodist Protestants to consider with them the question of uniting the two churches. The Congregationalists, through their national committee, asked to be admitted to the negotiations, and thus came about the movement for "Tri-Church Union."

BISHOPS.

Eastern District—Job S. Mills, D. D., LL. D., Annville, Pa.

Central District—Geo. M. Matthews, D. D., Chicago, Ill.

Western District—Wm. M. Weekly, D. D., Kansas City, Mo.

Bishop Emeritus—Nicholas Castle, Eugene, Oregon.

Pacific District—Wm. M. Bell, D. D., Oakland, Cal.

Southern District—T. C. Carter, D. D., Chattanooga, Tenn.

AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION.

Headquarters at Boston, Mass.

OFFICERS FOR 1907-1908.

President—Rev. Samuel A. Eliot, D. D., Cambridge, Mass.

Vice-Presidents—Hon. Wallace Hackett, of Portsmouth, N. H.; Hon. Eben S. Draper, of Hopedale, Mass.; Hon. Thomas M. Osborne, of Auburn, N. Y.; Bernard R. Green, Esq., of Washington, D. C.; Frederic A. Delano, Esq., of Chicago, Ill.; Hon. Horace Davis, LL. D., of San Francisco, Cal.

Secretary—Rev. Lewis G. Wilson, of Cambridge, Mass.

Assistant Secretary—George W. Fox, Esq., of Boston, Mass.

Treasurer—Francis H. Lincoln, Esq., of Hingham, Mass.

REFORMED CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES.

The Sixteenth Triennial Session of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States will be held in Trinity Reformed Church, York, Pa., beginning on the 21st of May, 1908.

Officers of the General Synod—President, Rev. A. E. Dahlman, D. D., Buffalo, N. Y.; vice-presidents, Rev. F. W. Berleman, D. D., Philadelphia, Pa., and Rev. Adam S. Weber, D. D., Baltimore, Md.; stated clerk, Rev. John Phillip Stein, D. D., Reading, Pa.; assistant clerk, Rev. John Bachman, D. D., New Knoxville, Ohio; roll clerk, Rev. James Rauch Stein, Harrisburg, Pa.; corresponding secretary, Rev. George P. Stem, Siegfried, Pa.; reading clerk, Rev. J. M. S. Isenberg, Philadelphia, Pa.; treasurer, Elder William R. Barnhart, Greensburg, Pa.

There are eight District Synods, viz: Eastern Ohio, North West, Pittsburg, Potomac, German Synod of the East, Central and Interior.

Officers of the Synod of the Potomac—President, Rev. Calvin B. Heller, Shiloh, N. C.; vice-president, Elder George W. Crum, Jefferson, Md.; corresponding secretary, Rev. J. David Miller, Shepherds-town, W. Va.; reading clerk, Rev. Isaac N. Peightel, Greencastle, Pa.; stated clerk, Rev. Lloyd E. Coblenz, Baltimore, Md.; treasurer, Elder Charles M. Wolff, Esq., Hanover, Pa. This Synod will hold its thirty-sixth annual meeting in Emmanuel Reformed Church, Hanover, Pa., beginning on the third Tuesday in October, 1908.

Officers of the German Synod of the East—President, Rev. E. A. Hofer, Ebenezer, N. Y.; corresponding secretary, Rev. H. Achterman, Buffalo, N. Y.; treasurer, Rev. F. W. Berleman, D. D., Philadelphia, Pa.; stated clerk, Rev. A. E. Dahimann, D. D., Buffalo, N. Y. This Synod will meet in Baltimore, Md., the second Wednesday in September, 1908.

Constituting the District Synods there are 57 classes.

The officers of the Classis of Maryland—President, Rev. J. Stewart Hartman, Silver Run, Md.; vice-president, Elder Harvey S. Bomberger, Boonsboro, Md.; corresponding secretary, Rev. Guy Pearre Bready, Thurmont, Md.; reading clerk, Rev. Martin W. Schweitzer, Union Bridge, Md.; treasurer, Rev. Calvin B. Slagle, D. D., Westminster, Md.; stated clerk, Rev. Lloyd E. Coblenz, Baltimore, Md. Maryland Classis will meet in Cavetown, Md., May 13, 1908.

Summary of all the Classis—Statistics, ministers, 1,175; congregations, 1,748; baptized members, 413,183; Sunday schools, 1,694; officers, teachers and scholars, 236,787; students for the ministry, 219; contributions for benevolence, $369,122; for congregational purposes, $1,658,865.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES.

The National Council of Congregational Churches meets every three years. Its next session will be held at Kansas City, Mo., October, 1910. Rev. Washington Gladden, D. D., of Columbus, Ohio, is Moderator of the National Council.

The Six Congregational Churches in Maryland are connected with the Washington Conference of Congregational Churches. This Conference embraces Northern Virginia, District of Columbia, Maryland and Southern Pennsylvania—sixteen churches in all, with a membership of 3,840.

Prof. W. C. Skinner, of Washington, D. C., is Moderator, and Mr. Norman A. Little, Washington, D. C., is Secretary of the Conference. It meets semi-annually on the third Tuesday of May and November.

This Conference is connected with the Congregational State Association of New Jersey, which includes sixty-six churches of Washington, Maryland, Philadelphia and New Jersey, with a membership of 14,480, and meets annually in April. In 1908 it will meet at East Orange, N. J.

AFRICAN METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The next General Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church will be held in May, 1908, in Norfolk, Va.

BISHOPS.

1880—Henry M. Turner, 30 Young St., Atlanta, Ga.

1888—Wesley J. Gaines, Houston street, Atlanta, Ga.

1888—Benj. T. Tanner, 2708 Diamond street, Philadelphia, Pa.

1888—Abram Grant, Indianapolis, Ind.

1892—Benj. F. Lee, Wilberforce, Ohio.

1892—Moses B. Salter, 30 Vanderhorst street, Charleston, S. C.

1892—James A. Handy, 1341 North Carey street, Baltimore, Md.

1896—William B. Derrick, Bishop's Court, 27 State street, Flushing, N. Y.

1900—Evans Tyree, 13 North Hill St., Nashville, Tenn.

1900—C. S. Smith, 39 East Columbia street, Detroit, Mich.

1900—C. T. Shaffer, Chicago, Ill.

1900—L. J. Coppin, 1913 Bainbridge street, Philadelphia, Pa.

SOCIETY OF FRIENDS.

Baltimore Yearly Meeting, Park avenue and Laurens street, last Monday in October.

Clerk—Elizabeth M. Koser, Bigler-ville, Pa.

Assistant Clerk—Edward C. Wilson, 1923 Park avenue, Baltimore.

Reading Clerk—Rebecca J. Broomell, 2128 Bolton street, Baltimore.

Treasurer—Robert H. Walker, Fidelity Building, Baltimore.

ORTHODOX FRIENDS.

Yearly Meetings in the Meeting-house, corner of Eutaw and Monument streets, on Friday after the first Monday in November.

Clerks—Prof. Allen C. Thomas and Anna King Carey.

Assistant Clerk—John R. Cary.

Treasurer—Richard J. White.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATIONS.

The Southern Baptist Convention, having a constituency of nearly two million members, meets in Hot Springs, Ark., May 14, 1908. Rev. H. W. Battle, of North Carolina, will preach the introductory sermon. Hon. E. W. Stephens, of Missouri, is president, and Rev. Lansing Burrows, of Tennessee, and Rev. O. F. Gregory, of Virginia, are secretaries.

The Maryland Baptist Union Association meets at Hampden Baptist Church, Baltimore, October 21-23. Rev. T. P. Holloway preaches the introductory sermon. Hon. Joshua Levering is president. Rev. W. H. Baylor and Rev. W. R. Owen are secretaries. The officers of the Executive Board are: Mr. J. Harry Tyler, president; Rev. E. B. Hatcher, 300 W. Lanvale St., Baltimore, general secretary; Mr. R. J. W. Hamill, financial secretary; Messrs. J. Tabb Robinson, Charles M. Ness and J. E. Healy, treasurers.

The Eastern District Association meets at Marian Station, June 17-18, 1908. The Middle District Association meets at Towson, September 18-19, 1908. The Western District Association meets at Deer Park, Md., June 9-11, 1908.

The Maryland Baptist Young People's Union meets at the Franklin Square Baptist Church, October 19-20, 1908. Mr. Horace E. Gambrill is president and Dr. M. J. Maldeis, secretary.

The Woman's State, Home and Foreign Missionary Societies will meet in connection with the Maryland Baptist Union Association, October 21, 22, 23, 1908, respectively.

CHURCH UNION IN ENGLAND.

A historic event in England was the consummation on September 17 of a union between the Methodist New Connexion, the Bible Christians and the United Methodist Free Churches. This brings together a total of 2,421 churches, 180,000 members, 322,758 Sunday school scholars, 848 ministers and 5,621 lay preachers. The uniting conference met in "the Mother Church of Methodism," Wesley's Chapel.

STATE BOARD OF FORESTRY.

State Board of Forestry, Johns Hopkins University,
532 N. Howard St., Baltimore, Md.

Governor—Austin Lane Crothers, President.....Annapolis.
Comptroller—Joshua W. Hering.....Westminster.
President Johns Hopkins University—Ira Remsen.....Baltimore.
President Maryland Agricultural College—R. W. Silvester.....College Park.
State Geologist—Wm. Bullock Clark, Executive Officer.....Baltimore.
Ex-Governor E. B. Jackson.....Salisbury.
Norman James.....Catonsville.
State Forester and Secretary—F. W. Besley.....Baltimore.

The State Board of Forestry was established by an act of the General Assembly of 1906, and is engaged in the study of the forest conditions of the State and in making a forestry survey. The State Forester gives advice to the owners of woodlands regarding their development and is also in charge of the forest areas which have been presented to the State and which under the terms of the act are administered as State forest preserves.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH OF MARYLAND.

President—Dr. Wm. H. Welch, Baltimore.	Secretary and Executive Officer—Dr. Martin Langton Price, Towson, Baltimore County.
Dr. James Bosley, Health Commissioner, Baltimore City, ex-officio.	Medical Assistant—Dr. C. W. G. Rohrer.
Dr. L. A. Griffith, Upper Marlboro.	Laboratory Assistant—Dr. Harry W. Stoner.
Dr. Eugene Jones, Kensington.	Chemist—Dr. W. B. D. Penniman.
Mr. Douglas H. Thomas, Jr., Baltimore.	Bacteriologist—Dr. Wm. R. Stokes.
Hon. Isaac Lobe Straus, Attor.-General of Maryland, ex-officio.	Inspector—C. N. Mitten.
	Clerk—M. L. Rulman.

DMITRI IVANOVITCH MENDELEEFF.

Dmitri Ivanovitch Mendeleeff, one of the greatest chemists of this century, died February 2, 1907, of inflammation of the lungs. Born February 7, 1834, at Tobolsk, in Siberia, the youngest child of a family of seventeen, he received his early education at the Tobolsk gymnasium, of which his father was director, and continued his studies at the University of St. Petersburg, where he obtained the M. A. degree. He went in 1860 to Heidelberg, where he established a private laboratory and published the results of various investigations. In 1863 he returned to St. Petersburg as professor of chemistry at the Technological Institute, and three years later was appointed to the chemistry chair in the university. While writing a book in 1870 on the "Principles of Chemistry" he made his great discovery of the Periodic Law. Arguing upon the basis that the two signs or manifestations of matter are (1) mass, and (2) individuality, and that both matter and the chemical elements are indestructible, his deduction was that there must be some bond of union between mass and the chemical elements, and hence also between the properties of an element and its atomic weight. This conception led him to compare the atomic weights and typical properties of the elements, and the result was a paper read before the Russian Chemical Society in March, 1869, "The Correlation of the Properties and Atomic Weights of the Elements." When arranged in a series in the order of their atomic weights the elements form groups, the members of which have similar properties. Finding in his series certain unoccupied spaces he predicted that elements would some day be found to fill them. He foretold not only the existence, but also the general properties and chemical behavior of new and then undiscovered elements, to fill up blanks in the table he had constructed, and when gallium, scandium and germanium were isolated, it was found that they fulfilled these predictions in a most striking manner.

Mendeleeff in 1902 published "An Attempt Toward a Chemical Conception of the Ether." Starting with the assumption that the ether possesses both mass and materiality, and by extrapolation inserting a zero group in the Periodic System and a zero series of elements lighter than hydrogen, he deduced that in this series one element should have an atomic weight many times less than that of hydrogen; that it should have a monatomic molecule like argon and helium, and that its exceedingly small density, or, in other words, the exceedingly rapid motion of its molecules, should enable it to permeate and penetrate all matter and space. This gaseous element he believed to be the ether, and he was satisfied that the recently discovered physico-chemical phenomena connected with radio-activity could be satisfactorily explained by assuming the emission of a portion of this ether. Uranium and thorium, having the highest atomic weights among the elements, would have in the highest degree that power of attraction which lies between gravity and chemical affinity, a power which would cause the accumulation of ether-atoms round their molecules.

THE ZODIAC.

The apparent path of the sun in the heavens is along an ecliptic, which is inclined $23^{\circ} 27'$ to the celestial equator. A belt 16° wide, 8° on each side of the ecliptic, within which are comprised the path of the moon and all of the planets known to the ancients, is known as the zodiac. This belt is divided into the twelve signs of the zodiac, each 30° in length. The first of these signs begins at the point when the sun's path crosses the equator (when moving north in the spring) and is known as the sign of Aries, and the point of crossing is known as the vernal or spring equinox. The point when the sun's path crosses the equator when returning south in the fall is known as the autumnal equinox, and is the beginning of the sign Libra.

The zodiacal signs and the times when the sun enters each are as follows:

♈	Aries, the Ram.	Mar. 21, 2 P.M.	♏	Scorpio, the Scorpion.	Oct. 23, 10 P.M.
♉	Taurus, the Bull.	April 20, 2 P.M.	♐	Sagittarius, the Archer.	Nov. 22, 7 P.M.
♊	Gemini, the Twins.	May 21, 2 P.M.	♑	Capricornus, the Goat.	Dec. 22, 7 A.M.
♋	Cancer, the Crab.	June 21, 10 P.M.	♒	Aquarius, the Water-Carrier.	Jan. 20, 12 M.
♌	Leo, the Lion.	July 23, 9 A.M.	♓	Pisces, the Fishes.	Feb. 19, 3 A.M.
♍	Virgo, the Virgin.	Aug. 23, 4 P.M.
♎	Libra, the Balance.	Sept. 23, 1 P.M.

COLLAPSE OF THE LOCUST POINT PIER.

The Baltimore & Ohio R. R. pier No. 8, at Locust Point in the Patapsco river, Baltimore, was at an advanced stage of construction when it suddenly collapsed at 11 A. M., April 27, killing seven persons and causing a loss estimated at about $400,000. The pier rested on piles and was about 160 ft. wide and 1,000 ft. long and carried a 2,400-ton two-story steel shed, 135 ft. wide, 930 ft. long and 55 ft. high to the ridge. It had four longitudinal rows of columns carrying the second floor girders, roof trusses and roof beams, and a fifth center row of columns supporting the main second-floor girders only. The exterior columns were battered, and at the time of the collapse the walls were already covered with corrugated iron at the outer end of the pier, where the roof and floors had also been laid, and the structure was practically completed. At the shore-end of the pier, the steel frame-work had been erected but the floors and roof boards had not been laid. The pier forms a part of the company's extensive terminal improvements in Baltimore and was being built at a contract price of $750,000, to provide trans-shipping handling and storage facilities for large quantities of freight.

When rebuilt it will afford berth space for three of the largest vessels entering the Baltimore harbor and will be one of the largest and best equipped piers in the country.

The substructure consisted of over ten thousand 60-ft. piles driven in transverse rows about 4 ft. apart and capped with 12x12-in. timbers supporting a solid course of 8-in. longitudinal timbers at low water level. The edges of this platform supported concrete retaining walls about 10 ft. high, and two similar concrete walls a few feet each side of the longitudinal center line of the pier enclosed a pit for two depressed standard gauge railroad tracks. The columns were supported on separate concrete piers about 10 ft. high built on the timber deck, with the spaces between them filled with sand on which the first-floor wooden planks were laid.

The water at the end of the pier is about 35 ft. deep. As to the bottom, preliminary boring showed 18 ft. of mud, 5 ft. of iron ore and sand, then a deep layer of sand and another of clay reaching to hard bottom supposed to be rock at a depth of 55 ft. The engineer in charge of substructure work said that all piles used were from 50 to 70 ft. long and of unusually good quality, and were invariably driven to a refusal of less than 1 in. with a 2,500-lb. hammer. The piles were assumed to have a capacity of 20 tons each but were only loaded with 9 tons. All of them were driven to the hard stratum and no settlement was observed in them. About 10 days before the accident, it was observed that the outer end of the pier was moving transversely eastward and it was closely watched by the engineers and contractors. On April 26 the displacement amounted to about 2½ ft. horizontally and little or nothing vertically. A transitman stationed on an adjacent pier sighted a point on the new pier and kept it under constant observation. Finally the movement increased and he sent warning to the foreman, who ordered the men off the pier about 10 minutes before it collapsed. All of them had thus sufficient warning to escape, but through carelessness or delay some of them failed to do so. One of the victims had escaped and was returning to rescue his tools when killed by the falling fire wall. Three other men retreated as far as the fire wall and supposed themselves in safety under its shelter when they were killed by its fall. H. L. Ellender, superintendent for the McLean Contracting Company, was killed while heroically endeavoring to rescue his men. The shore-end of the pier was comparatively uninjured, but about two-thirds of the superstructure at the outer end was carried about 25 ft. transversely and sunk to the bottom in an upright position, with the second floor partly submerged. The sudden immersion of such a great volume of material caused an enormous displacement of water and produced a powerful wave which was reported to have been about 6 ft. high on the opposite side of the harbor, one mile distant, and strong enough to tear many large boats from their moorings. An engineer of the B. & O. expressed the view that it was not overweight on the piles that caused the accident, but that the slipping away of the mud was wholly responsible. The piles did not sink in the least, because the clay supporting them was as hard as rock. It was the washing away of the mud that caused the piles to swerve and finally break away from the masonry, leaving the superstructure unsupported.

PRICE OF SILVER.

From 1850 to 1859 silver sold in London for over 61 pence per ounce. In the latter year it went to 62½ pence. Then began a decline to 57½ pence in 1873, to 50 pence in 1883, to 30 pence in 1893 and to 21 11-16 pence in 1903. In 1904 began a rise, which carried it to 33½ per ounce in November, 1906.

THE EVACUATION OF MANCHURIA.

By the Treaty of Peace between Russia and Japan it was mutually agreed that the High Contracting Parties would completely withdraw their troops, other than railway guards, from Manchuria, except from the leased territory of the Liaotung peninsula, within a period of eighteen months from the day on which the treaty came into operation. That date had been conventionally fixed for April 15, 1907, which is, in actual point of fact, nineteen months after the date (September 15, 1905) on which notifications of the ratification of the treaty were exchanged between the two governments. The engagement, therefore, came into operation April 15, 1907. Formal notification had, however, some days earlier been given by the Japanese Minister at Peking to the Chinese Government that the withdrawal of Japanese troops was complete, and the Russian minister was in the position to make a similar declaration. Japanese journals report, with regard to the railway guards, that the entire force now retained by Japan in Manchuria is one division—the 14th—under Lieutenant-General Sameshima, and three battalions of reservists. The former body was moved to Liaoyang, which will be its headquarters for the future. The number of troops represents ten men to every kilometre, or five less than the conventionally fixed number. About seven men per kilometre will be posted along the line and the remainder will be retained at headquarters. The disposition of the Russian guards is believed to be equally satisfactory.

Thus China may, at length, be said to be again in undisputed territorial possession of the rich and as yet little exploited provinces which cradled her present rulers. Manchuria is China's, but not in the old exclusive sense, which rules throughout the eighteen other provinces.

To foreign traders the final evacuation of Manchuria brings the hope of at length finding that entry for their goods which was prematurely expected immediately on the declaration of peace. To China they must now look for a genuine opening up of the eastern provinces as a market with equal opportunity for all. The control of the railway systems by Japan and Russia gives those countries apparent advantages, and the fact that by Article VII of the peace treaty it was agreed by both governments that they would "exploit their respective railways in Manchuria exclusively for commercial and industrial purposes," may be regarded as some warrant for pressing those advantages. To that article, however, no outside powers were parties, and they can justly hold both Japan and Russia to their declaration in favor of the Open Door.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

In the United States women possess suffrage upon equal terms with men at all elections in four States: In Wyoming, established in 1869; in Colorado, 1893; in Utah in 1896, and in Idaho in 1896.

In 1903 the Kansas and Montana Legislatures, and in 1906 the Rhode Island Legislature rejected bills giving women full suffrage. In June, 1906, Oregon refused to adopt a woman suffrage amendment to its constitution by a vote of 47,075 to 36,902.

In Kansas women possess school suffrage, established in 1861, and municipal suffrage, established in 1887.

In eighteen additional States women possess school suffrage: In Michigan and Minnesota, established in 1875; in New Hampshire and Oregon in 1878; in Massachusetts in 1879; in New York and Vermont in 1880; in Nebraska in 1883; in Wisconsin in 1900; in Washington in 1886; in Arizona, Montana, New Jersey, North Dakota and South Dakota in 1887; in Illinois in 1891; in Connecticut in 1893; in Ohio in 1894.

Two States permit women to vote upon the issuance of municipal bonds: Montana, established in 1887; Iowa in 1894.

Louisiana gave all women taxpayers the suffrage upon all questions submitted to the taxpayers in 1898.

In 1901 the New York Legislature passed a law providing that "a woman who possesses the qualifications to vote for village or for town officers, except the qualification of sex, who is the owner of property in the village assessed upon the last preceding assessment roll thereof, is entitled to vote upon a proposition to raise money by tax or assessment."

In Great Britain women can vote for all officers except members of Parliament.

In Australia and New Zealand women have full suffrage; also in the Isle of Man.

In Cape Colony, in Canada and in parts of India women vote on various terms for municipal or school officers.

THE IRISH COUNCIL BILL.

The Home Rule bill introduced in the Commons by Mr. Gladstone in 1886, having for its object the giving of self-government to Ireland, was defeated by the defection of 93 Liberals. In 1893 Mr. Gladstone introduced a new and amended bill which was passed by the Commons, but was thrown out by the House of Lords. These bills provided for an Irish Parliament at Dublin with powers extending to all subjects except those specifically reserved to the Parliament in London. The discussion of Home Rule produced a schism in the Liberal party, and a large section of it, under the name of Liberal Unionists, co-operated with the Conservatives to ensure its defeat, with the result that the Conservatives were enabled to control the government for many years. In January, 1906, however, the Liberals regained power, and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and others who had supported Mr. Gladstone's bills, decided to revive Home Rule in a modified form, giving the Irish partial control of their affairs, in the hope that the successful working of their scheme would after a few years render the English people willing to concede complete control. Accordingly on May 7 a bill was introduced in the Commons which provided for an Irish Council, to have control of certain departments only of the Irish administration. This council was to meet in Dublin and was to consist of 82 elected and 24 appointed members. The elected members would be chosen for three years on a franchise which permits peers and women to vote. The appointed members would be nominated the first year by the King and afterward by the Lord Lieutenant. The under secretary of the latter would be an ex-officio member of the Council. Eight departments of the administration—local government, agriculture, congested districts, public works, education (national and intermediate), reformatory and industrial schools and the registrar-general—would come under the control of the Council, while five departments—the judiciary, the Royal Irish constabulary, the Dublin police, the Land Commission and the Prisons Board—would remain under the control of the Crown. The supremacy of the London Government would be secured by the power given to the Lord Lieutenant to veto any resolution of the Council. For the financial purposes of the eight departments a sum exceeding $13,250,000 would be voted yearly by Parliament, making, with other Irish expenditures, a total of $20,000,000 allotted yearly to the Irish fund. The bill in effect gave partial self-government to Ireland. Local affairs of importance were to be turned over to the Council, but other affairs—especially those of a judicial and political character—were withheld. Recognition was given to the fact that the North of Ireland and a minority of landlords throughout Ireland were, bitterly opposed to Home Rule by the provision that a minority of the members of the Council should be appointed. The Ulster members, together with the appointed members, would form a very considerable fraction of the Council and was expected to temper its action should it tend to become extreme. The Lord Lieutenant's veto was designed to be a further safeguard against hasty decisions.

The bill being a compromise measure satisfied nobody. Irish members of Parliament held that it did not go far enough and could be tolerated only as a step toward complete Home Rule. English and Welsh Radicals and Laborites objected to it for like reasons. Not a few Liberals, led by Lord Rosebery, questioned its expediency. The Liberal Unionists and Conservatives, of course, bitterly opposed it. They protested against its first reading, which was carried, nevertheless, by a vote of 416 to 121. The convention of Irish Nationalists held in Dublin, May 21, with singular unanimity, declared the bill unacceptable for the reason that it did not satisfy Irish national aspirations and failed to give the Irish people complete control of their domestic affairs. "Having considered the Irish council bill," said a resolution unanimously adopted by the convention, "we declare that it is utterly inadequate in its scope and unsatisfactory in its details, and should be rejected by the Irish nation, and we regard the production of such a measure by a British government pledged to Home Rule as confirmation of the position we have always taken—that any attempt to settle the Irish problem by half measures would be entirely unsuccessful, and we call upon the Irish party to oppose the bill in the House of Commons and press upon the government with all its strength and power to introduce a measure for the establishment of a native parliament with a responsible executive, having power over all purely Irish affairs."

THE LUSITANIA.

On September 13, 1907, the turbine Cunarder Lusitania from Queenstown arrived at New York, making her maiden voyage in 5 days and 54 minutes, at an average speed of 23.01 knots per hour. The distance covered—from Daunt's Rock to Sandy Hook Lightship—was 2,780 miles. This gave her the record for the passage between Queens-town and New York, formerly held by the Cunarder Lucania, which, in 1894, did the distance in 5 days, 7 hours and 23 minutes, at a speed of 21.81 knots.

On October 11, the Lusitania broke all westward trans-Atlantic records, making the passage in 4 days, 19 hours and 52 minutes, at an average speed of 24 knots per hour. On the 8th she made 608 knots; on the 9th, 617 knots, equal to 710 statute miles, at a speed averaging 24.76 knots. Later she broke also the eastward record. In July, 1901, the Deutschland made a longer passage (3,054 miles) in 5 days, 11 hours and 54 minutes, at a speed of 23.15 knots, the best one day's run being 601 knots. In June, 1904, the Kaiser Wilhelm II. made a passage of 3,082 miles in 5 days, 11 hours and 58 minutes at an average speed of 23.58 knots.

The Cunarder Europa got the record in 1846 by a passage in 11 days and 3 hours, beating the Great Western's record of 14½ days in 1838.

The Lusitania is 790 feet long, 88 feet broad and 37½ feet deep, with 9 decks. Her tonnage is 32,500 tons, horsepower 68,000, heating surface of boilers 3.64 acres, and daily consumption of coal about 950 tons. She carries 2,350 passengers. Her success gives prestige to turbines over reciprocating engines.

END OF KOREA'S INDEPENDENCE.

The war of 1894 extinguished Chinese claims of suzerainty over Korea and the Russo-Japanese war of 1904-05 ended with a treaty by which Russia recognized Japan's interests in Korea as paramount. England and France made treaties with Japan which similarly recognize Japan's special position in Korea. In 1904 Korea undertook to accept Japanese advice in respect to finance and administrative reforms. In the convention of November, 1905, she gave to Japan control of her foreign relations and accepted a Japanese "Resident," who was to direct Korean diplomacy. It was accordingly a grave incident for the Korean Emperor early in 1907 to send delegates to represent Korea at the Hague Conference. The sequel was that on July 18, under pressure from his Cabinet, he abdicated, his son taking his place. On July 24 the Cabinet formally assented to Japanese control of the country. The Emperor was to continue on the throne, without governing; the Korean Government was to accept "instruction and guidance" from a Japanese Resident in all matters of administration and in all appointments of high officials. Japanese were to be appointed to office when recommended by him and no foreigner was to be appointed without the Resident's assent. The Korean army, numbering 7,000, was disbanded after a fight at the barracks in Seoul with 150 casualties. Japan is accordingly now in a position to introduce needed reforms.

A SPANISH HEIR.

Spain was rejoiced early in May, 1907, by the birth of an heir to the Spanish throne. The mother of the baby prince, Victoria Eugenie, was a princess of the English royal house. The birth occurred within a week of the twenty-first birthday of the young King. It was on May 17, 1886, that Alfonso XIII. was born—and born literally in the purple, since his father had passed away the autumn before. The conditions under which the little Prince of the Asturias sees the light are of much fairer promise than those that greeted his royal father. Twenty-one years ago the Queen-Mother was just taking up, as Regent, the burden of her difficult and thankless task, and the dynasty was not so firmly seated that her son's future could be regarded as entirely assured. The Cuban rebellion and the American war were yet to come. But the result was a blessing in disguise. In the last few years Spain's prospects have steadily brightened. The popularity and energy of Alfonso XIII. have contributed not a little to this result.

THE FASTEST OCEAN LINER.

The Mauretania, a sister ship of the Lusitania, on her trial off the Irish coast over a 300-mile course, November 5, averaged 27.36 knots an hour, one knot more than the Lusitania made on her trial.

BOARD OF STATE AID AND CHARITIES.

This Commission is appointed biennially to investigate all applications of charitable and educational institutions for State aid and makes recommendations to the General Assembly of those deemed worthy to receive aid. The Commission is as follows:

Ferdinand C. Latrobe, President, Baltimore City.	David Hutzler, Baltimore City.
A. Webster Smith, Baltimore City.	Herbert G. Crisp, Baltimore City.
John S. Gittings, Baltimore City.	Harry M. Benzinger, Baltimore Co.
	Garrett Foxwell, Kent County.
Secretary—James R. Brewer.

SOUTH FIRST OPPOSED SLAVERY.

The first opposers of slavery were in the South. Richard Randolph, of Virginia, in his will in 1790 freed his slaves and gave them 400 acres of land.

SUGGESTIONS TO FARMERS.

Prepared for THE SUN ALMANAC by members of the Maryland Experiment Station staff.

Diseases of Crops.

The most important communicable diseases of cultivated plants in Maryland are: Apple—scab, bitter-rot, black-rot and canker, blight, leaf-spot, rust. Pear—blight, leaf-spot, scab. Quince—black-rot, leaf-spot, blight. Cherry—black-knot, brown-rot, leaf-spot. Peach—brown-rot, leaf-curl, scab, yellows. Plum—black-knot, brown-rot.

Blackberry and raspberry—anthracnose, rust, crown-ball. Currant and gooseberry—leaf-spot, mildew. Grape—black-rot, downy mildew. Strawberry—leaf-spot.

Asparagus—rust. Bean—anthracnose, bacteriosis, downy mildew. Cabbage—black-rot, club-root, wilt. Cantaloupe—leaf-blight, wilt. Celery—leaf-blight. Cucumber—anthracnose, wilt, downy mildew. Potato—brown-rot, dry-rot, early blight, scab. Sweet potato—Black-rot. Tomato—blight, fruit-rot, leaf-spot. Watermelon—anthracnose. Corn—leaf-blight, smut. Oats and wheat—rust, smut, scab. Alfalfa—leaf-spot. Clover—anthracnose, leaf-spot, rust.

Carnation—stem-rot, leaf-spot, rust. Chrysanthemum—rust, leaf-spot. Rose—powdery mildew, black-spot.

Most of these are caused by very minute parasites (fungi or bacteria) which grow in the diseased tissue. Their development can often be prevented and a great deal of loss saved by the application of certain chemicals (usually in the form of sprays). Different diseases require quite different treatment and full discussion cannot be given here, but instructions regarding treatment of any particular disease can be obtained from the State Experiment Station or the United States Department of Agriculture.

The following are formulas for some of the principal fungicides now in use:

Bor.

1 water, 5 pounds fresh stone lime slacked in 25 gallons of water. When cool pour both at same time through strainer into sprayer and use while fresh, keeping well stirred. Paris green can be added to kill insects. Do not use iron vessels.

For peach, some plums, and other things liable to injury by strong Bordeaux mixture, use 3 pounds of copper sulphate to 9 pounds of lime, to 50 gallons of water.

Ammoniacal copper carbonate is used to spray fruit or foliage where discoloration of Bordeaux mixture is undesirable, but is not so effective as the latter.

Dissolve 5 ounces copper carbonate in 2 to 3 pints of ammonia diluted with 2 gallons of water. (Use only enough ammonia to dissolve carbonate) and add water to make 50 gallons.

Dibasic copper acetate can be used, 6 ounces to 50 gallons of water without the ammonia.

Sulphur dusted on plants affected with mildew or many other diseases, e. g. asparagus rust, is an effective fungicide. Burning sulphur is destructive to vegetable life.

Corrosive sublimate, 1 part to 1,000 parts of water, is one of the best disinfectants. It is used 2 ounces to 15 gallons of water for potato scab. (Soak seed potatoes in this 2 hours before cutting); use wooden vessels.

Formalin, 1 pint to 30 gallons of water, is used for same purpose.

Potassium sulphide, 1 ounce to 4 gallons of water, is used for gooseberry mildew.

Whenever practicable, all diseased material should be burned to prevent further infection. Such sanitary measures are especially necessary with peach yellows, pear blight, black-knot of plum and cherry, and is very desirable in as a spray or dip against plant lice. Also burning old tobacco stems in a greenhouse is helpful in destroying insect pests.

HYDROCYANIC ACID GAS.

This gas has come into use of late years as an important insecticide. Its use in fumigating nursery trees to protect against the San Jose scale has become quite general. It is made by combining the following:

Keep everything closed for at least 30 minutes, or longer. It is a very deadly gas, and much care should be exercised with its use.

BI-SULPHIDE OF CARBON.

This liquid is used in destroying stored-grain insects and the like. The liquid evaporates very rapidly, the gas being very deadly to animal life, when confined in it for any length of time in fumigating.

SUGGESTIONS TO FARMERS—Continued.

strength. When used dry, the arsenite is usually mixed with land plaster or flour, and is applied with a bellows, perforated sack, or powder gun.

PARIS GREEN.

Paris green.....1 pound.
Lump lime (freshly slacked). 2 pounds.
Water150 gallons.

This well-known arsenite is commonly used in combating biting insects. On very sensitive foliage, like that of peach, apricot, etc., it might be safer to use 200 gallons of water to a pound of poison. Applied dry, the poison should be diluted to twenty times its own weight of flour or plaster.

It is often combined with Bordeaux mixture, a fungicide, with same proportions as above, substituting Bordeaux mixture for the water.

ARSENATE OF LEAD.

Arsenate of lead.....2 to 4 pounds.
Water50 gallons.

This arsenate is used by many in preference to Paris green, for it is the least caustic in its effect upon foliage, remains in suspension, and adheres to foliage for a longer period. To prepare arsenate of lead, dissolve in water three pounds of arsenate of soda, and seven pounds of acetate of lead (white sugar of lead).

A mixture called Disparene is practically the same as arsenate of lead, and is said to be somewhat more adhesive than the regular arsenate. Double the strength stated above can be used if desired, without danger of injuring the foliage.

SCHEEL'S GREEN (GREEN ARSENOID).

Scheele's green (green arsenoid) 1 pound.
Lump lime (freshly slacked). 2 pounds.
Water150 gallons.

This arsenite is very similar to Paris green, and has an advantage over it, in that it remains in suspension in water for a much longer time. It is also cheaper in price.

LONDON PURPLE.

London purple.....1 pound.
Lump lime (freshly slacked). 2 pounds.
Water150 gallons.

This poison is finely divided, and remains in suspension in water longer than Paris green, and it usually sells at almost two-thirds the price of that poison. It seems to be going into disfavor because of its variable composition, and the danger of its burning foliage. It is also considered somewhat less effectual in killing insects than is Paris green or Scheele's green.

Contact Insecticides.

SOAP.

The ordinary soft soaps and laundry soaps have long been used for killing insects with soft bodies like plant lice. There are a great many makes of soap, and almost all have some insecticidal value.

WHALE OIL SOAP.

This is a well-known brand of soap, and is very effective when applied properly. For treating plant lice or similar insects, when plants are in foliage, one pound of soap to six or eight gallons of water will suffice. For scale insects, like the San Jose scale, it should be used as strong as a pound and a half to two pounds to one gallon of water. The stronger applications can only be used in the winter or early spring, when the trees are dormant.

KEROSENE EMULSION.

This no doubt is the best general purpose contact insecticide. It is easy to prepare, and the materials composing it are always at hand. The emulsion can be made using the ingredients in the following proportions:

Kerosene2 gallons.
Common soap..... $\frac{1}{2}$ pound.
Water1 gallon.

Dissolve the soap in hot water, add the kerosene, and emulsify by violent churning. Dilute to the strength required. If Ta-Ka-Nap soap is used, it is not necessary to add hot water. Twelve to 15 per cent. emulsion is strong enough for killing plant lice and the like.

LIME SULPHUR WASH.

This wash seems to be the most satisfactory solution for the control of the San Jose scale. It should be applied either in the fall or early spring, while the trees are dormant.

Fresh stone lime.....20 pounds.
Flowers or flour sulphur....15 pounds.
Water50 gallons.

Boil 20 gallons of water in an iron pot or hog scald; now add the 20 pounds of lime and 15 pounds of sulphur, which should have been previously mixed with a little hot water to form a paste. Boil the mixture, stirring occasionally, from 30 minutes to one hour, or until the sulphur is thoroughly dissolved, and produces a clear, amber-colored solution. Then dilute by adding sufficient hot or cold water to make 50 gallons. Strain into the spray barrel, and apply warm.

TOBACCO.

Old tobacco stems are often steeped in hot water, a pound of the stems to a gallon or two of water. It is used

SHELL FISH COMMISSIONERS' WORK.

Under the Oyster Culture Law of 1906, the Board of Public Works, May 5, 1906, created the Maryland Shell Fish Commission as follows: As representing tidewater counties, Western Shore, Walter J. Mitchell (Dem.), La Plata, Charles county, chairman; tidewater counties, Eastern Shore, Benjamin K. Green (Dem.), Westover, Somerset county, treasurer; City of Baltimore, Dr. Caswell Grave (Rep.), Johns Hopkins University, secretary. Under an act of Congress of 1906 the Secretary of Commerce and Labor designated Capt. C. C. Yates, of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, and Dr. H. F. Moore, of the Bureau of Fisheries, to co-operate with the commission. The survey of oyster bottoms began in Anne Arundel, July 19, 1906. The first hydrographic work was in the Severn River. The houseboat "Oyster" was bought and fitted up for the use of the commission. When field work ended, December 10, the work of duplicating records, plotting outlines of natural oyster bars and making leasing charts was begun at Annapolis. The Oyster went to Crisfield, May 2, to survey the oyster and crabbing bottoms of Somerset and buoys were placed. Wicomico occupied the surveyors from October 2 to 30, and buoys were placed at corners of natural bars. Worcester came next. The following shows the hydrographic work to October 31, 1907, the end of the fiscal year:

Number miles of sounding lines.....	662.4
Number positions on sounding lines taken.....	7,348.
Number soundings taken.....	54,953.
Number oyster bars surveyed and examined.....	128.
Number acres of oyster ground surveyed.....	68,333:

On June 20, 1906, a report, prepared by Capt. C. C. Yates and published by the Coast and Geodetic Survey, was widely distributed. It consists of a description of all landmarks and triangulation stations in Anne Arundel county, established by the Coast and Geodetic Survey for the use of the commission in the survey of the oyster grounds, and of all boundaries of oyster bars established by the commission. A series of four charts showing the location and names of the above-mentioned landmarks, triangulation stations and oyster bars accompanies this report.

During the period of four months following the filing of a set of these charts with the clerk of the Circuit Court of Anne Arundel County, when appeals from the decision of the commission are allowed, two appeals were made. In the first, claim was made by oystermen that the entire area of Herring Bay (2,334 acres) is a natural oyster bar, the commission having found and charted but 808 acres of oyster producing bottom. Following this appeal the commission resurveyed the bottoms in question and found that 99 acres of oyster-producing bottoms had been missed, during the original survey and it joined with the oystermen in requesting the Court to add this to the 808 acres already charted as natural bars, but maintained that the remaining 1,427 acres, claimed by the oystermen in their petition as natural oyster bar, are barren bottom. As a result of this appeal the 99 acres were added to the oyster bottoms excluded from lease for oyster culture. In the second appeal, which has not yet been heard, claim is made that oyster-producing bottoms in six localities in South River have been omitted by the commission from the charts.

Leases to more than 800 lots, taken up for the purposes of oyster culture prior to the passage of the Haman Law, have been applied for and of these, those located in the counties surveyed have been resurveyed, described and plotted on leasing charts. They are as follows:

Anne Arundel County.....	14
Somerset County.....	280
Wicomico County.....	33

Twenty-four ten-acre lots in Anne Arundel county have been leased under the new oyster culture law.

The first report of the commission, just issued, contains a full account of the work of the commission to October 1, 1907, and recommendations for changes in the oyster culture law which seem desirable to promote oyster culture in Maryland.

The present organization of the board and its engineering and clerical departments is as follows:

MARYLAND'S AREA AND PRODUCTS.

Maryland extends east and west 250 miles, north and south 128¹/₂ miles, its area being 12,327 square miles, of which 2,386 are water. About one-fifth of its surface is water, but this water is more productive than an equal area of terra firma. Its land area is larger than that of Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey or Delaware. The census of 1900 gives these areas:

	Gross area.	Land.	Water.		Gross area.	Land.	Water.
Maryland . . .	12,327	9,941	2,386	New Jersey . . .	7,815	7,525	290
Vermont	9,565	9,135	430	Connecticut . .	4,990	4,845	145
New Hampshire .	9,305	9,905	300	Delaware	2,050	1,960	90
Massachusetts .	8,315	8,040	275	Rhode Island . .	1,250	1,053	197

In their product of oysters, crabs, terrapin and fish the waters of Maryland are more valuable than the iron ore beds of Pennsylvania, or the gold fields of California. The land area is singularly rich in fertile soils, mines and lumber. Nine years ago its corn, wheat, oats, rye, buckwheat, potatoes, hay and tobacco, to say nothing of fruit, vegetables, etc., had a value of $20,804,371.

THE HAGUE PEACE CONFERENCE.

The Second International Peace Conference, proposed by the President of the United States and convoked at the Czar's request by the Queen of the Netherlands, met June 15, 1907, at the Hague, and adjourned sine die October 18. The results, while less important than hoped for, have value. The following conventions were agreed upon, October 17, for the signature of the plenipotentiaries: (1.) The peaceful regulation of international conflicts. (2.) Providing for an international prize court. (3.) Regulating the rights and duties of neutrals on land. (4.) Regulating the rights and duties of neutrals at sea. (5.) Covering the laying of submarine mines. (6.) The bombardment of towns from the sea. (7.) The matter of the collection of contractual debts. (8.) The transformation of merchantmen into warships. (9.) The treatment of captured crews. (10.) The inviolability of fishing boats. (11.) The inviolability of the postal service. (12.) The application of the Geneva convention and the Red Cross to sea warfare; and, (13.) The laws and customs regulating land warfare.

The right to sign these conventions will be open to the nations until June 30, 1908.

The most considerable achievement was the institution of an International Prize Court, but this court has no recognized laws to apply. The failure to effect more was due to the action that all sovereign states are equal—Haiti, for example, to England or Germany—and to ignoring irreconcilable differences of certain Great Powers. The desired limitation of armaments, obligatory arbitration and the prohibition of submarine mines failed.

STATE GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

Maryland Geological and Economic Survey, Johns Hopkins University, 532 N. Howard St., Baltimore, Md.

COMMISSION.

Governor—Austin L. Crothers, President.....Annapolis.
Comptroller—Joshua W. Hering.....Westminster.
President Johns Hopkins University—Ira Remsen, Executive Officer.....Baltimore.
President Maryland Agricultural College—R.W. Silvester, Secretary, College Park.

SCIENTIFIC STAFF.

Assistant State Geologist—Edward B. Mathews.....Baltimore.
Chief Engineer—Walter W. Crosby.....Baltimore.
Assistants—B. L. Miller, Charles K. Swartz, Edw. W. Berry.....Baltimore.

The work of the State Geological and Economic Survey covers a wide field including geological investigations, highway engineering, topographic surveying, the mapping of the distribution of the various types of agricultural soils and forest growths, and a study of the hydrography and terrestrial magnetism of the State. These several lines of work have been provided for by successive acts of the General Assembly.

The geological investigations comprise an examination of the geological formations and mineral deposits of the State with special reference to their economic products, and reports and maps are published from time to time showing their character and distribution. Detailed reports on the coals, clays and building stones have been issued.

The highway work is conducted under special acts of the General Assembly, the most important being a State Aid Highway Law passed in 1904 by which the State contributes one-half towards the cost of county roads built under its supervision. The survey is also engaged in the construction of a State highway between Baltimore and Washington. A laboratory is connected with the bureau in which tests are made for the various counties and municipalities of the State.

The topographic surveying, which has been carried on in co-operation with the national government for several years, is now nearly completed, maps on the scale of one mile to one inch having already been issued for Allegany, Garrett, Baltimore, Cecil, Harford, Prince George's, Worcester, St. Mary's, Calvert, Kent, Wicomico, Talbot, Queen Anne's, Caroline, Somerset, Anne Arundel, and Dorchester counties, as well as of Baltimore and vicinity. A large State road map has also been prepared on the scale of three miles to one inch on which all cities, towns and villages are shown together with the chief highways, railroads and steamboat lines.

The work on the agricultural soils, forestry, hydrography, and terrestrial magnetism is conducted in co-operation with the national government and with other State organizations, and already a number of reports and maps have been issued on these subjects.

NEW MAP OF MARYLAND ISSUED BY MARYLAND GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

The Maryland Geological Survey has recently issued a large map of Maryland which in size, completeness of details and amount of accessory information shown is the most accurate, complete and attractive map of the State ever issued. It was compiled by Prof. Edward B. Mathews under the direction of Prof. Wm. Bullock Clark, State Geologist. The State Survey has been working for some years, in co-operation with the Federal Survey, in making maps of the various counties of the State, and the information gathered has been incorporated in the present publication. The map serves as a political, shipping, and road directory for all parts of the State.

Political units are represented in several ways. The counties are distinguished by different colors and their limits accurately located by heavy black lines. The election districts for each county are outlined and named in red. The limits of many of the incorporated towns and cities are indicated by fine black lines. The wards of Baltimore City and the Congressional districts are given in small and accessory maps.

The attempt has been made to give the location of every town, postoffice, hamlet, or cross-roads settlement within the State and the index or gazetteer enables one to gain more or less information regarding each place represented. From this index, by the use of symbols, one may learn of the postal facilities (money order, postoffice, or R. F. D.), population, express companies, railroads and steamboat lines, telegraph offices, and elevation above sea-level of nearly all of the 2,500 places represented on the face of the map.

The roads leading from place to place are classified by different breadth of lines according to their importance and general character, and their location is so accurately given that one may follow from point to point the general directions and minor turns in all important roads and feel assured that the choice of roads has been correct. No attempt has been made to represent the surface configurations or the grade of the roads, but much may be inferred regarding these features from the courses of the streams and the elevations of the different towns.

The map is issued in three sheets, each 28 inches wide and 48 inches high. The western sheet includes all of Garrett and Allegany counties and Washington county as far east as Cherry Run. The central sheet includes the rest of Washington county and all or most of Frederick, Carroll, Baltimore, Howard, Montgomery, Prince George's, Anne Arundel, Calvert, Charles, and St. Mary's counties. The eastern sheet includes Chesapeake Bay and the Eastern Shore and represents Harford, Cecil, Kent, Talbot, Queen Anne's, Caroline, Dorchester, Wicomico, Somerset, and Worcester counties and an outline map of Delaware. These three sheets together form a wall-map over four feet high and seven feet broad. It is the first reliable wall-map of the State based on actual surveys which has been issued since the days of the well-known Martinet map which represented the State as it existed more than a generation ago. The new map, which is drawn on the scale of 3 miles to 1 inch, is larger than the old, more accurate, and up to date. It may be obtained for a nominal price from the office of the Geological Survey in Baltimore, or from agents in each of the principal towns of the State.

SEWER WORK ACCOMPLISHED.

On October 22, 1907, one year after actual construction work had begun on the city's sewer system, 23 contracts had been let, covering 134,658 feet, costing $2,982,212, making $338,013 worth of land bought, a total expenditure of $3,320,225. Included in these figures are three 27,500,000-gallon sewerage pumping engines, testing plant and laboratory at Walbrook and the clearing and grading of the disposal works site on Back River; also the land for pumping station site, disposal works site and rights of way for outfall sewer. In addition to actual construction, a large amount of work, sanitary and storm water, has been planned.

The total number of feet of storm-water drains and sanitary sewers constructed is as follows:

Sanitary sewers.....	18,541 lin. ft.
Storm-water drains.....	53,881 "
Inlet connections.....	3,750 "
Underdrains	6,210 "
Total.....	82,382 "
	or 15.6 miles.

Number of manholes installed..... 243
Number of inlets installed..... 95

THE FASTEST DESTROYER.

At her official trial, November 5, the British torpedo-boat destroyer Mohawk attained the record speed of 34.3 knots an hour. This speed is equal to about thirty-nine and a half land miles an hour.

PLATFORM OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY OF MARYLAND.

Adopted in convention at the Maryland Theatre, Baltimore, August 8, 1907.

Chairman of Convention—De Warren H. Reynolds, of Allegany county.

NOMINEES.

For Governor—Judge Austin L. Crothers, of Cecil county.

Comptroller—Dr. Joshua W. Hering, of Carroll county.

Attorney-General—Mr. Isaac Lobe Straus, of Baltimore city.

Clerk of the Court of Appeals—Mr. Caleb C. Magruder, of Prince George's county.

Democratic Platform of 1907.

After summarizing the achievements of the Democratic party in the last eight years, the platform proceeds as follows:

Fully realizing the necessity of putting a stop to the intolerable evils of bribery and corruption in our elections, we favor the passage of a corrupt practices act that shall apply to primary and general elections, and which will go to the very root of this frightful menace to our free institutions and by adequate provisions and penalties which elsewhere have proved to be effective will make the buying of votes too odious and dangerous to be hereafter attempted.

Recognizing that the system of nominations by direct vote has proved satisfactory in the Democratic States of the South, and realizing that there is an increased sentiment and demand among the Democrats of Maryland for a primary election law which will insure honest and fair elections and afford the fullest and freest opportunity to the people to express their choice in the selection of candidates, we favor the passage of a primary election law for the whole State which shall provide that aspirants for State offices shall have the right to submit their candidacy to a direct vote of the people, and that candidates for the United States Senate may submit their candidacies to the people of the State at a primary election.

After a discussion extending over many years and resulting in a reasonably thorough understanding of the subject by the people, the Legislature of 1906, responding to a popular demand that could no longer be resisted, passed a carefully considered oyster culture law. We favor the fullest opportunity for the putting of this law into complete practical operation, and we are opposed to all attempts to annul it by repeal or to modify it by amendments that will destroy or weaken its efficiency.

Bearing in mind, however, that the object of the law is not only to open barren bottoms to cultivation with a view to their profitable use by private owners under just and equitable contract with the State, but also to ascertain and permanently locate the natural beds and bars of the State and to secure to the people their use in the same manner as heretofore enjoyed by them, we favor such additional legislation as may be needed to preserve from private ownership such natural oyster bars and to replenish them wherever this can be accomplished.

We believe that it is inexpedient at this time to call a convention to frame a new Constitution for the State.

Such changes in our present Constitution as experience has shown to be desirable can, in our judgment, be better made by constitutional amendments submitted by the General Assembly to the people than by a convention called to frame an entirely new Constitution, and we therefore appeal to the people to vote against the proposed call.

Maryland offers many and great attractions to worthy and industrious foreigners who desire to become American citizens, and we favor energetic measures to encourage and promote the introduction into our State of bodies of immigrants of good character who will actively contribute by their diligence and industry to the improvement and development of our agricultural resources.

The work of construction and improvement of our public roads already so well begun should be steadily kept up until, as the result of regular and judicious expenditure, there shall exist in Maryland a system of public roads as good as that to be found in any of our sister States.

In this campaign State issues are more particularly involved, and we therefore refrain from formulating any full declaration of Democratic principles and policy applicable to the Federal Government, believing that this can be more appropriately done by the national convention of 1908.

But nevertheless we feel that the present political situation upon national issues demands from us an emphatic reaffirmance of the time-honored article of Democratic faith again and again declared in our platform, that our Federal Government is a government of limited and carefully enumerated powers derived solely from the Constitution, and that the powers not therein granted or necessarily implied are reserved to the States, respectively, or to the people, and we maintain that the surest means for the preservation of the reserved rights of the States is the active exercise of the power of the States in the protection of their citizens and business interests from all forms of discrimination and monopoly.

PLATFORM OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY OF MARYLAND—Continued.

We feel that it is incumbent on us now to declare that no taxation can be justified or excused which takes from the pockets of the people more than is reasonably required to defray the costs of an economical and frugal administration of the government in all its departments, and we therefore favor such a revision of our existing tariff as will relieve the great masses of the people from its oppressive inequalities, discriminations and burdens and put an end to the intolerable wrong that extorts from them an annual excess of revenue of $90,000,000 withdrawn from circulation and piled up in the Treasury as a constant temptation to demoralizing extravagance.

This Democratic convention, representing more than two-thirds of the white people of the State, reaffirms the declaration contained in our party platform of 1903 upon the question of negro suffrage, and proclaims anew that it is the resolute purpose of the Democracy by all lawful and constitutional means to maintain the political supremacy of our race.

The Democratic party stands steadfast in its determination to eliminate the illiterate negro voter and thereby insure white manhood suffrage, and to this end we will at the earliest possible time submit a constitutional amendment which, while entirely within the provisions of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments of the Constitution of the United States, will amply protect the right to vote of our native-born and naturalized citizens and be so phrased as to meet all the objections raised by Democrats who opposed the amendment submitted in 1904 and rejected in 1905.

Upon this declaration of our purposes and policy we earnestly appeal to the people to support our candidates, whose election will insure a continuance of the good, strong and clean government which we now enjoy.

ELECTION OF SENATORS.

The following resolutions were adopted and form part of the platform:

Whereas two United States Senators are to be elected by the next Legislature of Maryland, one for the unexpired term of the late Senator Gorman and the other for a full term of six years from March 4, 1909; and

Whereas in former elections of United States Senators in this State much of the important time of the Legislature has been taken up by ineffectual ballotings for Senators, to the great prejudice of the public welfare and business; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that the Democrats of Maryland should be given an opportunity of voting directly for United States Senators in the manner in which it has been done recently in Mississippi, Alabama and other Southern States; and be it further

Resolved, That this convention, speaking for the Democracy of Maryland, does hereby instruct and command the State Central Committee to be appointed by this convention to take immediate steps for the calling of primary elections in the city of Baltimore and the several counties at some convenient time on or before November 5 for the Democrats to assemble and by ballot vote for their choice for United States Senators, and that this system be in vogue in the future whenever a United States Senator is to be chosen; and be it further

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that it shall be binding upon the Democrats elected in any county or district to the next Legislature to cast their votes for the candidates for United States Senator who shall have received the greatest number of votes cast at such primary election in such county or district.

The following resolution was also adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that whoever may be nominated for Governor shall faithfully serve the State during his entire term of office and shall not be a candidate for any other office during his term.

PLATFORM OF REPUBLICAN PARTY OF MARYLAND.

Adopted in convention at the Maryland Theatre, Baltimore, August 14, 1907.

Chairman of Convention—Benjamin A. Richmond.

NOMINEES.

For Governor—George R. Gajther, of Baltimore city.

Comptroller—Former State Senator James H. Baker, of Kent county.

Attorney-General—Hammond Urner, of Frederick.

Clerk of the Court of Appeals—Thomas Parran, of Calvert County, the incumbent.

Republican Platform of 1907.

We declare that the supreme issue in this campaign is the maintenance, unimpaired, of the right of the citizen to vote, and the free and unfettered opportunity for the exercise of that right.

We demand the repeal of recent Democratic legislation, and, in particular, the so-called Wilson Ballot law, by which the excellent election law of 1896 has been mutilated and shorn of its best features, and through which elections, in some portions of this State, have come to be determined, not so much by the will of the people, as by the manifold and familiar devices of the "trick ballot," through which the fraud or mistakes of election officers can overturn, as they have overturned, the clearly and honestly expressed will of the people by their ballots as deposited at the polls.

We favor the enactment of a primary election law applicable to the whole State, and adequate provision, through law, for the right of bona fide State candidates and candidates for the United States Senate to submit their claims to the people at such primary elections; but we denounce as a false pretense and a fraud any so-called primary for United States Senators of the kind provided for in the recent Democratic convention of this State, which is nothing more, in substance, than an ineffectual mandate to members of the Legislature from one or more counties or legislative districts to give their votes "for the candidate for United States Senator who shall have received the greatest number of votes cast at such primary election in such county or district," and makes no semblance of a provision for the nomination of Senators through the majority of the voters of any political party of this State.

We favor the adoption of a corrupt practices act in accordance with our declaration of several past conventions of the party.

We are in favor of any effective provision of legislation to prevent bribery at elections or primaries, but we are not prepared to admit that the work of purification of the ballot can safely be expected through legislation directed only against bribery at the hands of any political party whose candidates are often selected by agencies that represent the domination of influences whose chief and primary stock in trade in politics has been and will be the open and notorious use of money to affect the action of corrupt and venal voters, directly and indirectly, at the primaries and at the polls on the day of election.

We believe the proposed call for a constitutional convention to be unwise, inexpedient and fraught with dangers and probabilities of evil, and we appeal to the people of the State to vote against said proposed call.

We disapprove and condemn the re-expressed determination of the Democratic party to submit, "at the earliest possible time," another proposition in the form of a disfranchising constitutional amendment to the people of this State.

We do not believe that the people of this State can be deceived by the fulsome promise to so frame the said amendment as to guard against the objections to the one last submitted, in view of the well-known fact that the proponents of the last measure, known as the Poe amendment, with no less apparent earnestness, contended and promised that the said measure, if adopted, would amply protect the right and provide the opportunity for all white persons, native and naturalized, to exercise the right of suffrage under its provisions as then framed and submitted.

We favor a system of oyster culture by the State so framed and administered as effectually to preserve the right, which we hold to be inalienable, of the citizens of the State to the use of the natural beds and bars of our rivers and bay.

We favor such modification of the Act of 1906 as shall more clearly construe and safeguard the provisions of that law as to taking oysters from natural beds and bars, to the end that it may be impossible for any Shellfish Commission to so use the power and discretion committed to them as to convert what may be properly considered as natural beds or bars into depleted or barren rock, and then subject them to lease to private parties, to the subversion of the long and well-recognized right of the citizens of this State to the use of such natural beds or bars.

We are in favor of a nonpartisan commission to execute this or any other law to be passed upon the subject-matter. We do not feel satisfied as yet that the present commission is free from partisanship in its administration of the law, and cannot approve the halting, hesitating, shiftless and unprogressive work of the said commission thus far, with an excessive force of partisan employes and supernumeraries, already entailing, and likely further to entail, a deficit in the treasury, with little hope of that abundant revenue for good roads, the promise of which, held out to the farmers of the State, gave to the measure much of the support that it received and the realization of which at this day seems at least far distant.

We favor legislation for replenishing the depleted beds and bars by the return of the shells to the bottom of our rivers and bay at the public expense, under such supervision as to aid the processes of nature in the increase of the oyster supply, add to the earnings of those dependent upon this industry for their livelihood and bring more substantial revenues to the Treasury of the State.

We believe that there ought to be a higher and better grade of men appointed as justices of the peace in the counties and in the city, and particularly does this apply to the office of police magistrate in Baltimore city, to the end that there may be a most thorough and rigid enforcement of law and order in all portions of our State.

We believe that these positions should be filled upon qualifications based upon merit alone, without regard to political affiliation, and we promise the people of this State that if the selection of these men shall be intrusted to a Republican Governor, supported, if need be, by legislation to better carry out this policy, that the character of these officers in the future will be based upon their fitness rather than their ability to control a ward or precinct in the city or an election district or precinct in the counties at a primary, or to affect advantageously, oftentimes fraudulently, the result of the vote in any such political subdivision at the election.

We favor more liberal appropriations for our public-school system, to the end that the salaries of the teachers of the State may be increased, that the poorest child in the State may have the opportunity, by a lengthened school year, alike in the cities and counties and by more capable and better remunerated teachers, to obtain such a liberal elementary education as it is the purpose and the proper function of our public school system to impart.

We favor liberal appropriations from the State Treasury for the construction and improvement of the public roads of our State under State regulation, but local control, subject to such regulations.

We favor such amendments to the laws relating to taxation as will make adequate provision, by clear and certain methods, for the taxation of all property whether of individuals or corporations, including easements and other incorporeal, as well as corporeal property, to the end that all the property of the State may be fairly and adequately assessed and the opportunities to escape taxation or to embarrass the State and counties or city, as the case may be, in the collection thereof may as far as possible be eliminated.

The Republicans of Maryland heartily congratulate their fellow-Americans on the peace and respect abroad, prosperity and happiness at home, which have been the lot of our common country during the wise, just, firm and patriotic administration of Theodore Roosevelt. They indorse without reserve the statesmanlike policies of our esteemed President, and they record their firm belief that the American people demand and will choose as his successor one who can be trusted without misgivings to persevere in his policies and harvest their fruits in the nation's welfare.

At Wimbledon, July 23, Norman E. Brookes, of Australia, won the last and deciding singles—score: 6—2, 6—0, 6—3—over H. Roper Barrett, British Isles, thus depriving Great Britain of the Davis Cup, the international tennis trophy.

May Sutton, of California, beat Miss Meyer in the ladies' open championship singles by two sets to none. The scores were 6—0, 6—3.

In the mixed doubles Beals C. Wright and May Sutton, of California, beat A. F. Wilding and Mrs. Chambers by 2—1. The score was 3—6, 6—2, 6—3.

At Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., August 30, in the international tennis tournament—Miss Sutton, of California, vs. Miss Hedley, of Toronto—Miss Sutton won in straight games by 6—0, 6—0.

On July 2, at Philadelphia, Miss Evelyn Sears, of Boston, won the women's singles lawn-tennis championship of the United States for 1907 by defeating in the final round of the national tournament at St. Martin's Miss Carrie B. Neely, of Cincinnati, by a score of 2 sets to 0.

Summary:

Women's Singles; Final Round—Miss Evelyn Sears, Boston, defeated Miss Carrie B. Neely, Cincinnati, 6—3, 6—2.

Championship Round—Miss Evelyn Sears, Boston, challenger, defeated Miss Helen Homans, New York, holder, by default.

Mixed Doubles; Final Round—Miss May Sayers and Wallace F. Johnson, Merion Cricket Club, defeated Miss Natalie Wildey, Plainfield, N. J., and W. M. Tilden, Philadelphia Cricket Club, 6—1, 7—5.

At Newport, R. I., August 26, W. R. Johnson, of the University of Pennsylvania Association, won the finals in the national interscholastic championship tennis event, defeating Arthur Sweetzer, of the Harvard Association.

PROHIBITION IN MARYLAND.

Through local option, or direct legislation, more than one-half of Maryland has become "dry." In ten counties prohibition prevails; in four it prevails except in a few small areas. Four are "dry" in part, and four are "wet." On the Eastern Shore all the counties except Worcester are "dry." In Southern Maryland only Calvert is "dry," and in Western Maryland only Montgomery, Anne Arundel, Harford, Howard and Frederick have a few "wet" places. All Anne Arundel is "dry," except Annapolis and the precinct containing Brooklyn, Curtis Bay, South Baltimore, etc. All Howard is "dry" except Millicott City. In Harford only Havre de Grace is "wet." In Frederick the "dry" area includes nine entire districts and parts of fourteen other districts. Garrett, Washington, Prince George's, Allegany and Baltimore counties are but partially "dry." Parts of Baltimore city are "dry." The rather "wet" counties are Carroll, Charles, St. Mary's and Worcester.

RECLAMATION OF MARYLAND'S SWAMP AREA.

Maryland has 328,768 acres of swamp lands, of which 124,352 acres are under fresh-water swamps and 204,416 acres are salt-water marshes. The eastern and southern counties bordering the Chesapeake bay and the Atlantic Ocean have 323,326 acres of swamps and the remaining counties 5,440 acres.

Counties.	Sq. miles.	Acres.	Counties.	Sq. miles.	Acres.
Baltimore	7.1	4,544	Talbot	5.6	3,584
Anne Arundel	5.2	3,328	Caroline	12.3	7,872
Prince George's	8.8	5,632	Dorchester	201.5	128,960
Charles	34.0	21,760	Wicomico	39.2	25,088
Calvert	4.4	2,816	Somerset	76.2	48,768
St. Mary's	1.6	1,024	Worcester	68.4	43,776
Harford	11.7	7,488	Garrett	4.5	2,880
Cecil	6.7	4,288	Other counties	4.0	2,560
Kent	8.3	5,312
Queen Anne's	14.2	9,088	Totals	513.7	328,768

Proximity to the markets of Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia renders our swamp lands peculiarly valuable, and their reclamation a question of the first importance. The resulting soil will prove to be very rich. Putting the value at about $30 an acre, reclamation would add $10,000,000 to the taxable property of the State. Adjacent lands would be improved, and the water of the fresh-water swamps could be used to irrigate sandy tracts that today have little value.

THE NEW UNION STATION, WASHINGTON.

The first train to enter the new Union Station at Washington, was the Pittsburgh Express, No. 10, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, which arrived at 7.20 A. M., October 27, in charge of M. B. Donaldson, of Baltimore, engineer; T. E. Brown, of Baltimore, fireman, and Thos. Landon, of Baltimore, conductor.

FOOTBALL IN 1907.

The eight leading teams are ranked as respects their successes in this order: Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Annapolis, West Point, Dartmouth, Harvard. Of the leading eleven Yale and Dartmouth were the only ones that went through the season without being defeated. Vermont played a tie game with Dartmouth and West Point held Yale to a no-score struggle. Yale is the champion. Princeton was the only one to score on Yale. Princeton leads with points scored, namely 282. The record:

SEA STRENGTH OF THE PRINCIPAL NAVAL POWERS.

The Bureau of Naval Intelligence of the Navy Department on June 1st, 1907, issued a table showing the sea strength of the principal naval powers of the world, their relative order of warship tonnage at present and as would be the case were vessels now building completed. All of these tables place the United States third in rank as a naval power of the world, and it is now generally conceded that both as regards general fighting efficiency and numerical strength this country ranks next after Great Britain and France as a naval power. The table published by the Bureau of Naval Intelligence follows:

Number and Displacement of Warships, Built and Building, of 1,000 or More Tons, and of Torpedo Craft of More than 50 Tons.

TYPE OF VESSEL.	GREAT BRITAIN.				FRANCE.

*Battleships, first class, are those of (about) 10,000 or more tons displacement.

†Includes smaller battleships and monitors.

‡All unarmored warships of more than 1,000 tons are, in this table, classed according to displacement as cruisers. Scouts are considered as cruisers in which battery and protection have been sacrificed to secure extreme speed. The word "protected" has been omitted because all cruisers except the smallest and oldest now have protective decks.

YACHTING.

Race for the King Edward Cup.

Seven races were sailed on Long Island Sound, August 9—17, 1907, by the New York Yacht Club. There were rattling winds, beam to beam dashes, dangerous situations and good sport generally. The boat of the cruise was the Queen. She won the King's cup, the Vice-Commodore's cup, the Rear-Commodore's cup, and three first prizes in her class. In the sloop division Averger won the most cups. She carried off the Astor cup, the Commodore's cup, and the Navy Alumni Association challenge trophy. She also took three first prizes and one second prize in her class. Effort was never beaten in her class. She won the Rear-Commodore's cup and five first prizes in her class. Gardenia won all the squadron runs, taking therefore five cups, and also won the Rear-Commodore's and Vice-Commodore's cups.

Baltimore Yacht Club Race,

On July 4, on a course of 10.3 miles, off the quarters of the Baltimore Yacht Club, the Spindrift won the third of a series of five races, beating the Gowan with a corrected record of 2 hours, 46 minutes to 2 hours, 58 minutes and 12 seconds. The winner received the larger trophy, a loving cup, 12 inches high, inscribed "B. Y. C., Winner of 30-Footer Series, 1904."

As a side race there was a contest between the power sloop Severn and the power yawl Quo Vadis. The course was 10.3 miles. The Severn won by 7 minutes and 40 seconds, making the distance in 2 hours, 44 minutes and 10 seconds. The trophy was a silver cup.

GERMAN-AMERICAN RACE AT KIEL.

The German yacht Wannsee, owned by the Wannsee Yacht Club, Saturday, August 17, won the Emperor's cup for boats of the Sonderklasse in a closely contested race. She finished twenty seconds ahead of the Tilly X, which, as usual, was sailed by Prince Henry of Prussia, and one minute and eight seconds ahead of Wittelsbach II. The Marblehead and Spokane, American boats, took part in the race.

PROHIBITION IN THE UNITED STATES.

- One-half of the country, it is stated, is under local prohibition, viz:
- Alabama.—In November, 1907, passed a prohibitory law to take effect January 1, 1909.
 Arkansas.—Sixty out of 75 counties are dry. Dry territory in other counties.
 California.—Four counties are dry, with much dry territory in other counties.
 Colorado.—Local option law, 1907.
 Connecticut.—Town local option; 96 no license and 72 license towns.
 Delaware.—Two counties adopted prohibition November, 1907. Two counties and Wilmington are wet.
 Florida.—Thirty dry counties out of 45.
 Georgia.—Prohibition, January 1, 1908.
 Idaho.—License; Sunday law.
 Illinois.—A local option law was recently passed; two dry counties; about 200 dry towns.
 Indiana.—Three dry counties; 710 dry townships out of 1016. Half of population in dry territory.
 Iowa.—Sixty-five out of 99 counties are dry; 11 other counties have only one saloon town.
 Kansas.—Prohibition.
 Kentucky.—Ninety-seven out of 119 counties are dry; only 4 counties wholly wet.
 Louisiana.—Seven-eighths of the State dry. Orders may not be solicited or received in dry territory.
 Maryland.—Over one-half of the State is under prohibition; also one-fourth of the area of Baltimore city. Builders of suburban towns are incorporating it in deeds.
 Maine.—Prohibition.
 Massachusetts.—Local option by cities and towns; 250 dry, about 100 wet.
 Michigan.—County option, with several dry counties.
 Minnesota.—License, with village local option; 123 dry municipalities.
 Mississippi.—Sixty-eight out of 75 counties are dry.
 Missouri.—Forty out of 115 counties are dry. Sunday closing is rigidly enforced by Governor Folk.
 Montana.—License.
 Nebraska.—Village and city option; 400 dry and 600 wet towns.
 Nevada.—License.
 New Hampshire.—Nominally prohibition, modified by local sentiment; 62 per cent. of population in dry territory.
 New Jersey.—Local option law.
 New York.—Town and township option.
 North Carolina.—Few saloons.
 North Dakota.—Prohibition.
 Ohio.—Out of 1,376 townships 1,140 are dry; 60 per cent. of municipalities dry; 350,000 people living in dry residence districts in wet cities.
 Oregon.—Twelve dry counties and 170 dry municipalities in other counties.
 Oklahoma.—Prohibition, 1907.
 Pennsylvania.—License, with right of remonstrance.
 Rhode Island.—Sixteen dry municipalities out of 38.
 South Carolina.—Dispensary law repealed; county local option.
 South Dakota.—Part of the State dry.
 Tennessee.—Saloons excluded from all but three municipalities.
 Texas.—Two-thirds of State dry.
 Utah.—License.
 Vermont.—Dry, except 24 towns.
 Virginia.—Much dry territory.
 West Virginia.—Thirty dry counties out of 55.
 Washington.—License; some dry areas.
 Wisconsin.—Local option, with 650 dry communities.
 Wyoming.—License.
 Arizona.—License.
 District of Columbia.—Ratio of saloons to population reduced more than half during the last 15 years. Sale prohibited in the Capitol building.

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY

Offices: CALVERT BUILDING, BALTIMORE

The TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY is recognized by the business and professional men of Baltimore as the foremost specialist in the examination of titles to real estate.

The Company not only makes the best examination of title that can be made, but also backs up its work with a formal guarantee policy, absolutely protecting the purchaser from all loss or trouble. By employing this Company the purchaser of real estate gets an examination of title with a guarantee at about the same price that he would pay for less valuable work without a guarantee.

Examinations and guarantee of titles made in every county in Maryland.

ADVICE TO POWER USERS: The most essential feature in anyone's business to make a success of same is, to see that your plant is being operated Profitably and Economically. Continual loss of Power, Shut-Downs, etc., are the direct result of incapable belts. The installation of GANDY belting is proof positive that your belt bills shall be cut in half. The GANDY costs one half as much as Leather, and is Absolutely Stronger and more durable. Our claims are worthy of notice. Test the GANDY and see if our statements are not well founded, Pioneers and only Makers of GANDY belting.

PATENTS—OFFICE OUTFITTERS

PATENTS ON NEW INVENTIONS

are procured by

MANN & CO., - ATTORNEYS

Franklin Building, Cor. Baltimore and North Sts.
BALTIMORE, MD.

All of our business with the Patent Office in Washington is done direct—one of our firm personally goes to the Patent Office two or three days every week.

We first ascertain if a device is new by making a search at the Patent Office among the classified patents.

We have in our office the official records of all patents since the year 1849.

Legal advice and business counsel will be furnished inventors, or persons interested in patents, who may be involved in difficulties. Over thirty years' experience has acquainted us with the methods employed by the best patent lawyers.

We are familiar with the law of trade-marks and procure the registration of trade-marks and labels for all kinds of goods.

Our responsibility can be ascertained through the mercantile agencies of The Bradstreet Co., or R. G. Dun & Co.

We advise inventors to beware of accepting "free opinions," that are advertised.
